Cardinal Ratti Elected Pope; Named Pius XI

Archbishop of Milan Proclaimed Head of the Roman Catholic Church Monday Morning; Thousands Cheer New Pontiff as Smoke Tells of Election at 11:33 O'clock.

[By the Associated Press]

Rome, Feb. 6—Cardinal Achille Ratti, archbishop of Milan, was proclaimed elected Pope in succession to the late Benedict XV this morning. He has taken the name of Pius XI.

The thousands waiting in front of St. Peter's for the wisp of smoke which would tell of the election of a new Pope or the failure of the Sacred college to reach a decision gave a mighty shout at 11:33 o'clock when a thin wisp of smoke came from the chimney leading from the sistine chapel. It was then known that the Catholic church had once more a duly elected pontiff.

ACCEPTS ELECTION.

As soon as the two-thirds vote for Cardinal Ratti had been verified Cardinal Vannutelli, as dean of the Sacred college, arose and proceeded to the throne of the chosen one, accompanied on either side by Cardinals Logue and Bisleti, respectively deans of the cardinal priests and the cardinal deacons. He was asked in Latin by Cardinal Vannutelli, in accordance with custom, if he accepted the election to supreme pontiff and the new Pope answered with the formal:

"Since it is the will of God, I must obey."

CHOOSES "PIUS XI"

Then the purple canopies over the thrones of the cardinals were let down one by one, until only that over the new pontiff remained. This was done to show that the whole Sacred college rendered obeisance to the new head of the church. Dean Vannutelli thereupon asked the new incumbent what name he chose to take during his pontificate, and on his reply "Pius XI" Monsignor Sincero, secretary of the conclave, verified his election to the papal chair.

ASSUMES ROBES

The new Pope was then escorted to the ante-room within the Sistine chapel where he discarded his cardinal's robes assisted by the conclavists, and the papal vestments which had been held in readiness since the opening of the conclave were placed on him. These included the white cassock, white sash, white stockings, red slippers, a red and gold mozzetta and finally the stole of red worked with gold.

The pontiff fully vested with the papal garb and accompanied by his attendants thereupon returned to the throne he had occupied in the Sistine chapel.

PAY RESPECTS

There the cardinals according to their rank, and headed by Vannutelli made their first act of adoration to His Holiness, kissing first his feet and then his hands, after which the Pope received them in embrace and bestowed upon them his first apostolic benediction.

RECEIVES RING

The "fisherman's ring" was placed on his finger and he left the chapel the whole assembly wending its way through the sala ducale and the sala regia, along the loggias to the Sala Clementina, the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

GIVES BENEDICTION

Meanwhile Pope Pius XI, after waiting for some moments in the Clementine Hall, had left for St. Peter's, accompanied by the members of the Sacred college. Arriving at the balcony at the entrace inside the cathedral, he raised his hand and bestowed on the multitude his first public benediction. He then returned to the Vatican where, although reigning the Popes have remained virtual prisoners until their deaths.

GOT 38 VOTES

Cardinal Ratti was elected Pope by receiving 38 votes in the conclave of the Sacred college, says a Central News dispatch from Rome this afternoon.

Cardinal Achille Ratti, Archbishop of Milan, was for several years Papal Nuncio in Poland where his discharge of important ecclesiastical functions when the Polish question became acute earned for him the esteem of Benedict XV and the gratitude of Vatican authorities. It was because of this service that the red hat was conferred upon him on June 16, 1921, when a similar honor was bestowed on Cardinal Laurenti.

Cardinal Ratti was born in Italy on Oct 12, 1858. For many years he was librarian of the Ambrosian Library and archives at Milan. Later he became librarian of the Vatican. In this position he remained until the new republic of Poland established official diplomatic relations with the Vatican at which time Ratti was appointed archbishop and was assigned to Poland as the representative of the Holy See.

COUNTERACTED RADICALISM.

That country was then torn with the estrangements from religion brought about by the Communistic propaganda from Soviet Russia and Archbishop Ratti counteracted the spread of radicalism. He also won the esteem of Polish Catholics by his efforts in behalf of destitute children orphaned by the war.

Cardinal Ratti as the Archbishop of Milan presides over one of the most important archdioceses in Italy. The city being a great industrial center, one of its main requirements is that the Cardinal shall possess a thorough knowledge of political and social problems. He is big physically and is reputed to have liberal tendencies.

SEAMEN COMMENDED FOR RESCUE WORK

Washington, Feb. 6—Seven members of the crew of the cruiser Huron flag-ship of the Asiatic fleet, have been commended by Secretary Weeks for heroism displayed in the rescue of four of their shipmates from a gas-filled flour hold. The next of kin of two others who died at the same time, have received letters of condolence.

The accident occured last August. A detail of mess cooks had gone to the forward flour hold of the Huron to "break out" flour for the bakeshop. Seaman David Matheson, the first to enter, was immediately overcome by carbon dioxide gas, generated by the fermentation of damp flour. Seaman John J. Merrill and Anton Huhn went to his assistance, but were made unconscious by the gas. The rigging of a wind sail to a discharge from the ventilating system to carry fresh air into the hold, enabled others to reach the men, but not until Seaman William Wacher was added to those overcome. Seaman Merrill and Huhn died from the effects of the gas.

FORMER BOER CHIEF DEWET IS DEAD

Tried for Treason, Sentenced, but Released.

[By the Associated Press]

Bloemfontein, Union of South Africa, Feb. 6—Gen. Christian DeWet, commander in chief of the Boer forces in the war of 1899, died at his home in Dewetsdorp, Friday.

Christian Rudolf DeWet was born October 7, 1854, at Lesuwkop in the Smithfield district of South Africa. He served in the first Anglo-Boer war of 1880-81, and was a member of the Volksraad when the second war, in which he took such a prominent part, broke out.

His operations against the British were marked by considerable strategical ability, his forces falling upon and annihilating isolated British posts while the enemy's columns attempted in vain to surround him.

He was elected a member of the first parliament of the Orange River colony in 1907, and was appointed minister of agriculture.

STARTED REBELLION.

Shortly after the outbreak of the world war, he headed a rebellion in the Orange Free State and Western Transvaal which was suppressed by Government forces after a brief month of fighting in which a son, Daniel, was killed and Gen. DeWet wounded.

For this rebellion, he was tried and in June 1915, convicted of treason and sentenced to six years imprisonment with a fine of $10,000. He was released after being confined only six months.

While maintaining his stand for the freedom of South Africa, he did not again participate in armed revolution and in 1916 was instrumental in nipping another rebellion in the bud.

COL. BLACK TAKES FORMAL COMMAND

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6—Col. Carols Black of Chicago, presented his credentials to Adjutant-General Frank S. Dickson this morning, and took formal command of the Illinois national guard, as General Dickson's successor.

2,000 INDIANS MOB CHAURAI POLICEMEN

[By the Associated Press]

London, Feb. 6—A mob of 2,000 Indian Nationalist volunteers and villagers attacked the police offices at Chaurai-Chauri on Feb. 4 and killed the entire staff of officers, the watchman and eight armed police who were sent as reinforcements says a telegram received by the India office here today from the British commissioner at Gorakpur, in the northeast section of the United provinces.

DEMOCRATS SEE NEW BIG GAINS

Expect to Regain Lost Districts.

Washington, Feb 6—The prediction that the Democratic party would make gains in every state in the north, east and west and would retrieve, in the coming campaign, the ground lost in Tennessee and Texas in the last election, was made Sunday by Representative Arthur B. Rouse, of Kentucky, chairman of the Democratic national congressional committee. In a statement, Mr. Rouse announced that the congressional committee organization would be completed within a week.

PROCEEDING ENERGETICALLY.

"We have been proceeding energetically," the statement said, "and have about completed our organization in each state. Our committee includes in its membership a representative in congress from every state that has Democratic representation in congress. There are now 26 states without Democratic representation. In all except five of these I have appointed a Democrat to represent the state on the committee and the organization will be complete within a week.

"The committee also will have a woman representative in each state and about half of these appointments have been made."

FINANCE COMMITTEE HEEDS FARM BLOC

Washington, Feb. 6—Majority members of the Senate finance committee in framing tariff rates on farm products, are understood to have approved the recommendations of the Senate Republican agricultural tariff bloc in the case of approximately two-thirds of the items thus far considered. These generally are slightly higher than those in the Fordney bill.

CHAMPAIGN SUFFERS ROBBERY LOSSES

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 6—One safe was blown open, another opened by manipulating the combination, and two residences were robbed here during the week-end. The safe at the White Line Laundry company was blown and $300 in cash and negotiable papers valued at $500 taken. At the Central school, a safe was opened and $25 taken. The homes of P. P. Schaefer and George McComb were entered and a check shows about $1,000 worth of jewelry taken.

Simple Questions Get Queer Answers from Average Americans

Chicago, Feb. 6—Captain Miles Standish was a Spanish adventurer, magazine writer and a Quaker.

America was discovered in the sixteenth century.

Siam is located in the West Indies and South China.

And good old Plymouth Rock is in New Hampshire or somewhere along the coast of Maine.

LEARNS MANY THINGS.

That's what a reporter found out when he attempted to refute the claim of a university professor here that the average intelligence of Americans was about that of a pupil in the sixth grade. He also learned that Jamaica was named a possession of the United States by four persons.

The questions prepared by Dr. Daniel Bruner of the Chicago public schools, the answers to which were made known today, were asked of policemen, elevated conductors, chauffeurs, footmen and others, and the average mark was 67 per cent for ten questions. Thirty-eight answered the queries and a dozen erred in the date of America's discovery. James Watts was said to be a watchmaker, a professor, the discoverer of electricity and the inventor of the teakettle. The Indian princess who saved the life of John Smith was given as Minnehaha or Hiawatha.

ANSWER EASILY

Several high school graduates and university students made a creditable showing in the test but when grammar school pupils were asked to answer the questions their answers were all given correctly and in short order.

MANY CLUES FOUND IN TAYLOR MURDER

Police Question Many in Death Mystery.

Los Angeles Calif., Feb. 6—Efforts of the police department and the sheriff's office to solve the motion picture puzzle of the slaying of William Desmond Taylor, director, brought the officers early today to a "cut-back" to the beginning—a rechecking of the dead man's papers in the hope of obtaining a better clew than any yet evolved.

The early hours today found deputy sheriffs, municipal detectives and officials of the motion picture company by which Taylor was employed, gathered in the dead director's apartment, again sorting over his letters and documents, seeking for an elusive something, overlooked before, that might set them straight on the trail of his slayer.

QUIET DAY.

This comparative set-back, followed a day and night of unusual activities in search for a solution to the enigma which now has entered on its fifth day.

Sunday night the world went forth that an unnamed motion picture actor had been taken to the county jail for questioning as a "suspect," and that his connection with the case was considered so important that he had been hustled from the motion picture "lot," where he was at work, with such speed that he had not the time to remove the makeup from his face. At the same time, two other motion picture employes, one a camera man, also were taken to jail as possible material witnesses.

AU TO A CLUE.

These actions resulted from a report that the actor's automobile a distinctively constructed and painted machine had been seen near the Taylor apartments the day of the murder.

The actor was questioned for two hours and then, still unable it was stated, to tell definitely where he was at the time Taylor was killed, was hurried to the dead man's apartment for a re-enactment of the crime which the officers had reconstructed.

He was released, but with instructions to keep in touch with the officers. The men taken as possible material witnesses also were given their freedom. The officers said the actor had admitted ownership of the automobile in question.

LINGERIE MISSING.

While these matters were developing, tales came to the police of the alleged possession by Taylor of women's silken lingerie, one piece of which, a pink night robe, was reported missing from his apartments since his body was discovered. One witness was said to have stated, but not to the police, that this particular robe bore the embroidered initials of a motion picture actress.

Close on the heels of these declarations came the report that the police were searching for a drug peddler, who, it was hinted, had sought through Taylor to make delivery of drugs to an actress who found it difficult to make her purchases direct. The initials of the actress connected with this phase of the case were said to be the same as those on the night robe reported missing from the Taylor apartments.

O'CONNELL ARRIVES IN NAPLES TOO LATE

[By the Associated Press]

Naples, Feb. 6.—Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, arrived in Naples on board the steamer Presidente Wilson from New York at 6:30 o'clock this morning. He left immediately for Rome on a special train as a guest of the Italian government.

Disarmament Meet In Closing Session

Simple Ceremonies Mark End of World Conference —Delegates Sign Treaties and Agreements.

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Feb. 6—The final session of the arms session was called to order just after 10 o'clock this morning to hear a farewell address by President Harding and for the signing of the remaining treaties.

The final session brought out the largest crowd of the conference. Scores sat in the aisles and stood around the walls. Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Gillett and other wives of officials had seats in the boxes.

DELEGATES APPLAUDED

As the prominent delegates arrived the spectators applauded. Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, got particular attention.

Many of the delegates were busy signing autograph albums.

The session was called to order at 10:02 o'clock with a prayer by the Rev. William S. Abernathy, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, which President Harding attends.

Amid applause Secretary Hughes announced that the Shantung treaty between Japan and China had been signed Saturday.

"The treaties will now be signed," he announced and the American delegation filed around to the foot of the big green-topped table of the secretary-general's desk inside the enclosure and began signing. Secretary Hughes completed his sig- the enclosure and began signing was in this order.

ORDER OF SIGNING.

The United States, Belgium, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, The Netherlands, China and Portugal.

To save time the red wax seals had been affixed previously and conference attaches standing at the elbows of the delegates pointed where each was to write his name.

The conference on limitation of armament and Far Eastern and Pacific questions adjourned sine die today at 11:13 o'clock.

TREATY SIGNING.

The order in which the treaties were signed today by delegates to the conference was as follows.

Supplement to the four power pact naval treaty, poison gas and submarines, nine power treaty concerning China and the Chinese customs treaty.

Many Treaties Meet Results

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Feb. 6—Six completed treaties, two others agreed to in substance, 14 resolutions and 10 separate or joint declarations of national policy, comprise the formal and tangible contribution of the arms conference negotiations to history.

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENT.

By the major agreements of the conference, the great powers put a limit on their naval strength in capital ships, abjure submarine warfare against commerce and use of poison gas, given him a new bill of rights based on territorial integrity, and the open door, and set up a new international concord to preserve peace in the Pacific. In addition Great Britain declares her intention to restore Wei-Hai-Wei to China, and Japan hands back Shantung and promises to withdraw from Siberia as soon as conditions there are stabilized.

These are the six treaties which, during the 12 weeks of negotiations here, have been brought to final completion:

NAVAL LIMITATION.

1—Naval limitation treaty, by which the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy agree to scrap or convert 68 capital ships and so limit future construction that after a 10 year building holiday their first line naval strength will remain at 525,000 tons; 525,000 tons, 315,000 tons, 175,000 tons, and 175,000 tons, respectively. The respective tonnage of airplane carriers is limited to 135,000 tons for each for the United States and Great Britain, 81,000 tons for Japan and 60,000 tons each for France and Italy. Individual capital ships are to be no larger than 35,000 tons and carry no guns in excess of 16 inches.

Aircraft carriers are limited similarly to 27,000 tons and auxiliar craft to 10,000 tons, and neither can carry a gun larger than 8 inches. As fortifications "status quo" is set up in the Pacific, under which the United States agrees not to further fortify the Philippines and Guam and Japan agrees to observe the same restriction in Formosa, the Bonins and the Pescadores.

SUBS AND GAS OUTLAWED

2—The submarine and poison gas treaty, to which the same five powers are signatories, by its terms and powers agree as among themselves not to use submarines "as commerce destroyers" in all cases to observe the rules of visit and search, and to regard as a pirate any submarine who violates existing law. As among themselves they outlaw use of poison gas altogether.

RESPECTS RIGHTS.

3—The four power Pacific treaty, by which the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan agree to respect one another's rights in relation to their insular possessions in the Pacific and to meet in consultation whenever those rights are threatened. The Anglo-Japanese alliance is automatically abrogated when the new treaty finally is ratified.

FAR EAST TREATY.

4—The general Far Eastern treaty between the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France, Italy, China, Belgium, Portugal and The Netherlands, binding each of them to respect China's integrity, the open door policy is to be applied in detail and every opportunity is to be given the Chinese people to develop a stable government. It is agreed that no treaty infringing these principles is to be concluded, that no contracts violating them are to be upheld, that discriminatory practice in the Chinese railways is to end, and that China's rights as a neutral are to be respected in future wars.

TARIFF TREATY.

5—The Chinese tariff treaty, adhered to by the same nine nations, providing international machinery for an immediate revision of Chinese customs duties on a basis of 5 per cent effective and periodical revisions thereafter, together with changes which will permit imposition of sur-taxes.

SHANTUNG PACT.

6—The Shantung treaty, between Japan and China, by which Shantung is restored to Chinese control.

By one of the uncompleted treaties agreed to in substance during the conference, Japan gives the United States the long-sought cable and wireless privileges on the island of Yap, and by the other five principal powers and The Netherlands allocated the former German-owned cables in the Pacific States, one to Japan and one to The Pacific so that one goes to the United Netherlands.

MAY RELEASE HOWAT ON PEACE BOND

Attorney Secures Bond for Kansas Leader.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 6—Word was received at the attorney-general's office that Phil Callery, attorney for Alexander Howat, arrived in Columbus, Kan., today with the peace bond required for the release of Howat from Columbus county jail where the deposed miner chief is serving a six months' sentence for violation of the criminal provisions of the industrial court law. It is understood here Howat may be released at once.

NEW STATE COAL HOISTING RECORD

Peoria Ill., Feb. 6—A state record for hoisting coal was made here when in eight hours, 500 men hoisted 2,525 tons of coal at the Groveland coal mine No. 2, East Peoria. The record was made despite the fact that operations were delayed 10 minutes. The coal filled sixty-one railroad cars.

SQUIBS O'NEWS.

Washington—Baron Kato of Japan said the convening of the arms conference was a "stroke of genius" resulting in a service which "will live as long as history lives."

Chicago—George W. Jackson, engineering contractor, died.

Newport Ky.—Another clash between state troops and rolling mill strike sympathizers occurred.

Harding Congratulates Arms Delegates

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Feb. 6—The address made by President Harding at the concluding session today of the arms conference follows:

"Mr. Chairman and members of the conference.

LITTERED WELCOME.

"Nearly three months ago it was my privilege to utter to you sincerest words of welcome to the capital of our republic, to suggest the spirit in which you were invited and to intimate the atmosphere in which you were asked to confer. In a very general way, perhaps, I ventured to express a hope for the things towards which our aspirations led.

"Today it is my greater privilege, and even greater pleasure, to come to make acknowledgement. It is one of the supreme compensations of life to contemplate a worth-while accomplishment.

"It cannot be other than seemly for me, as the only chief government so circumstanced as to be able to address the conference, to speak congratulations and to offer the thanks of our nation, our people; perhaps I dare volunteer to utter them for the world. My own gratification is beyond my capacity to express.

GREAT WORK.

"This conference has wrought a truly great achievement. It is hazardous sometimes to speak in superlatives and I will be restrained. But I will say, with every confidence, that the faith plighted here today, kept in national honor, will mark the beginning of a new and better epoch in human progress.

INSPIRES WORLD.

"Stripped to the simplest fact, what is the spectacle which has inspired a new hope for the world, gathered about this table nine great nations of the earth—not all, to be sure, but those most directly concerned with the problems at hand—have met and have conferred on questions of great import, and common concern, on problems menacing their peaceful relationship, on burdens threatening a common peril. In the revealing light of the public opinion of the world, without surrender of sovereignty, without impaired nationality or offended national pride, a solution has been found in animity. If the world has hungered for new assurance it may feast at the banquet which the conference has spread.

PEOPLE GRATIFIED.

"I am sure the people of the United States are supremely gratified and yet there is scant appreciation how marvelously you have wrought. When the days were dragging and agreements were delayed, when there were obstacles within and hindrances without, few stopped to realize that here was a conference of sovereign powers where only unanimous agreement could be made the rule. Majorities could not decide without impinging national rights. There were no victors to command, no vanquished to yield. All had voluntarily to agree in translating the conscience of our civilization and give concrete expression to world opinion.

"And you have agreed in spite of all difficulties and the agreements are proclaimed to the world. No new standards of national honors have been drawn, and the world is ready to proclaim the odiousness, perfidy or infamy.

LACKED COOPERATION.

"The Hague conventions were defeated by the antagonism of one power whose indisposition to co-operate and sustain led it to Vienna and Berlin sought peace founded on the injustice of war and sowed the seeds of future conflict, and hatred was armed where confidence was stifled.

"It is fair to say that human progress, the grown intimacy of international relationship, developed communication and transportation, attended by a directing world opinion, have set the stage more favored here. You have met in that calm deliberation and that determined resolution which have made a just peace, in righteous relationship, its own best guaranty.

ALL JUSTIFIED.

"It little matters what we appraise as the outstanding accomplishment. Any one of them have justified the conference. But the whole achievement has so cleared the atmosphere that it will seem like breathing the refreshing air of a new morn of promise.

"You have written the first deliberate and effective expression of great powers in the consciousness of peace, of war's utter futility, and challenged the sanity of competitive preparation for each other's destruction. You have halted folly and lifted burdens and revealed to the world that the one sure way to recover from the sorrow and ruin and staggering obligations of a world war is to end the strife in preparation for more of it, and turn human energies to the constructiveness of peace.

CHANGES VIEWS.

"I once believed in armed preparedness. I advocated it. But I have come now to believe there is better preparedness in a public mind and a world opinion made ready to grant justice precisely as it exacts it. And justice is better served in conferences of peace than in conflicts at arms.

"How simple it all has been. When you met here 12 weeks ago there was not a commitment, not an obligation, except that which each delegation owes to the government commissioning it. But human service was calling, world conscience was impelling, and world opinion directing.

No intrigue, no offensive or defensive alliances, no involvements have wrought your agreements, but reasoning with each other to common understanding has made new relationships among governments and peoples, new securities for peace and new opportunities for achievement and attending happiness.

REASON RULES.

Here have been established the contacts of reason, here has come the inevitable understandings of face-to-face exchanges when passion does not inflame. The very atmosphere shamed nation selfishness into retreat. Viewpoints were exchanged, differences composed and you came to understand how common, after all, are human aspirations, how alike, indeed, and how easily reconcilable, are our national aspirations; how sane and simple and satisfying to seek the relationships of peace and security.

It may be that the naval holiday here contracted will expire with the treaties, but I do not believe it. Those of us who live another decade are more likely to witness a growth of public opinion, strengthened by the new experience, which will make nations more concerned with living to the fulfillment of God's high intent than with agencies of warfare and destruction. Since this conference of nations has pointed with unanimity to the views of peace, like conferences in the future, under appropriate conditions and with aims both well conceived and definite, may illumine the highways and byways of human activity. The torches of understanding have been lighted, and they ought to glow and encircle the globe.

CONGRATULATES DELEGATES.

Again, gentlemen of the conference, congratulations and the gratitude of the United States to Belgium, to the British Empire, to China, to France, to Italy, to Japan, to the Netherlands, and to Portugal—I can wish no more than the same feeling, which we experience, of honorable and honored contribution to happy human advancement and a new sense of security in the righteous pursuits of peace and all attending good fortune.

THANKS AMERICANS.

From our own delegates I have known from time-to-time of your activities, and of the spirit of conciliation and adjustment, and the cheering readiness of all of you to strive for that unanimity so essential to accomplishment. Without it there would have been failure, with it you have heartened the world. And I know our guests will pardon me while I make grateful acknowledgement to the American delegation—to you Mr. Secretary Hughes, to you Senator Lodge, to you, Senator Underwood, to you Mr. Root, to all of you for your able and splendid and highly purposed and untiring endeavors in behalf of our government and our people, and to our excellent advisory committee, which gave to you so dependable a reflex of that American public opinion which charts the course of this republic.

WORLD REJOICES.

"It is so fine, so gratifying, so reassuring, so full of promise, that above the murmurings of a world sorrow not yet silenced, above the groans which come of excessive burdens not yet lifted, but to be lightened, above the discouragements of a world yet struggling to find itself after surpassing upheaval, there is the note of rejoicing which is not alone ours or yours, or of all us, but comes from the hearts of men of all the world."

TUSCOLA COUPLE MARRY SATURDAY

Retired Farmer Weds Mrs. Nancy Bauman.

Tuscola Feb 6—Mrs Nancy Bauman and Henry Goodman, both of Tuscola were married Saturday evening at eight o'clock by Rev. B. F Shipp of the Methodist church at his home on East Sale street. The only witnesses to the marriage were Mrs Bauman's two daughters, Miss Bertha Bauman of Chicago, and Mrs. Lester L. Smith of Tuscola and Mr. Smith. The new Mrs Goodman has been known here for a good many years her former husband having been William Bauman who was engaged in the hardware business on Sale street. Following his death she has done considerable nursing and has made her home a good part of the time with her daughter, Mrs. Smith near here.

Mr Goodman is one of the substantial retired farmers of the town having a nice modern home on the Scott street pavement, where he has lived since he and his former wife moved to town from their farm south of Fiekiin, several years ago. Immediately following the marriage ceremony the newly married couple went to the home of Mr Goodman, and it was their hope to keep the news of their marriage from becoming public until Monday. Some of the neighbors however "caught on" Saturday night and went to their door to congratulate them. The news was then general about town on Sunday.

NEW BUSINESS FIRM

An important change in one of the business firms here took place when I. I. Kelly became a partner with C. F. Cox in his hardware business. This store probably carries the largest stock of both heavy and light hardware to be found in the county, and for several years Mr Cox has been the sole owner and manager. Mr Kelly the new member of the firm which will be known as Cox and Kelly was for years a clerk in the store and may be said to have grown up in it. For some two or three years past and until recently he had been a traveling salesman.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

There was a reasonably good attendance at the meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday night for the purpose of organizing a Woman's Auxiliary to Douglas County Post No. 27 of the American Legion. A temporary organization was effected and charter has been applied for. Mrs Esther Payne Ingram was elected as temporary chairman, and Mrs. Oma Winn as temporary secretary-treasurer.

REVIVAL OPENS

A series of revival meetings that will continue for the next two weeks or longer, was begun at the Tuscola Methodist church on Sunday. There will be meetings each night in the week except Saturday. The preaching is to be done by Dr. B. F. Shipp, the pastor and he may have some assistance at times from the pastors in the Methodist churches of the surrounding towns. Mrs. C. M. Yates of Chicago an evangelistic singer, is here to have charge of the singing and is organizing a Chorus Choir, and also wishes to have a Junior Choir. It is the plan to hold a prayer service in the church each evening at seven o'clock followed by the regular services at seven thirty. Practically all of the other activities of the church have been laid aside temporarily for the evangelistic services.

IN OTHER CHURCHES

At the North and South Side Christian and Baptist churches there were the regular services for the day on Sunday. The Missionary Ladies of the South Side Christian, will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs Emma Murphey. Mrs H Ray Warren will be assistant hostess and Mrs M. F. Stary will be the leader of the lesson study.

At the Evangelical Lutheran church there were the regular services Sunday morning.

MAY CONSOLIDATE

On Sunday evening there was a joint meeting of the people of the Tuscola church and the people of the same denomination of the church near Macedonia for the purpose of starting a movement for possible consolidation of the two churches. Rev Mr Eilers of Danville was the chairman of the meeting. The Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Sartorius.

At the Presbyterian church there was a good attendance Sunday morning, and special music for the service. On Thursday afternoon the Light Bearers society will meet with Mrs Frank H. Jones.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. has been announced for Friday afternoon at two thirty at the home of Mrs R. W. Guy.

MOTHER DIES

C. C. Buehrig received a telegram Saturday morning from Mrs Buehrig at Dodge City Kan, stating that her mother Mrs Rose, had died Friday night. The telegram to Mr. Buehrig stated that the funeral services would be held on Monday.

GENERAL CLUB MEETING

There was a general meeting of the Tuscola Woman's club Saturday afternoon with the program in charge of the Art committee. The music for the program was arranged by Mrs Rena Beall. The club decided to work in connection with the Chamber of Commerce again this year in matters of community improvement and Mrs Emma Price was appointed chairman of the committee appointed by the Civics Department, for that purpose.

Mrs Esther Ingram reported a total of 180 letters having been written to ex-service men of the community, with only a few replies. Mrs Edwards of Champaign gave a very interesting talk on Modern Art. Mrs Edwards showed a collection of articles of art from different countries. The collection of pottery, including many pieces of Rookwood belonging to this district Womens Clubs was shown and explained by Mrs C. S. Wardall.

No, Pana Banker Not Offering 100-Acre Farm for Old Violin

Pana Feb 6—H. N. Schuyler was surprised Saturday morning to receive a letter from Fred Benzenbauer of Anderson, Ind., in which the writer referred to a reputed offer made by Mr Schuyler to exchange a 100 acre farm for a certain old violin belonging to an Indiana man and referring to a much older violin in the possession of Mr Benzenbauer. The letter said

"I saw in my paper where you offered an Elda [illegible] for a 100 acre farm [illegible] aged [illegible] Inscription on mine 'Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis [illegible] Anno A D. 17[illegible]'"

Mr Benzenbauer also writes that the violin is in excellent condition and asks if the Elwood man's violin is worth a 100 acre farm when it is only sixty one years old, what would his be worth since it is 196 years old?

Mr. Schuyler states, however, that he placed no such adv. in the paper and would be glad to know who did.

JOBLESS DECREASE MUCH IN JANUARY

Labor Forces Show Big Increase.

Washington Feb 6—Unemployment decreased sharply in the United States during January, the Department of Labor reported Sunday and forty out of sixty-five cities and industrial centers had 4.2 per cent more workers on payrolls January 31 than on December 31. The calculation was made from the actual reports of 1,428 concerns normally employing more than 500 people each.

SHOW INCREASE.

Nearly all industries, outside of steel, textiles and railroads increased their labor forces. In Detroit, center of the automobile industry the increase was 89.9 per cent, in Sioux City, Ia., 21 per cent. Chicago was listed with a four per cent improvement among forty cities reporting increases. Denver showed the largest decrease in employment with a drop in the number of employed of 45.7 per cent.

WAR PICTURES ATTRACT MANY

Art Institute Open Every Afternoon.

Many visitors called at the Art Institute building Sunday afternoon to view the war pictures of Capt George Harding, one of the official artists for the United States with the A. E. F.

When the pictures were hung at the institute under the direction of C. J. Vandeventer the water colors were divided from the black and white drawings with the water colors in the north room and the charcoals in the south room and in the hall and dining room.

A very complete descriptive folder giving the subject of each picture with a few words regarding it adds much to the interest of those who inspect the pictures.

The exhibit will be held during all of this month and will be open every afternoon and on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

IF YOU ARE THIN AND EMACIATED AND WISH SOMETHING TO HELP YOU PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT,

Yeast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless as your body cannot change inert lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire unites with coal or wood and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

Don't Be Deceived By Size

Many housewives are now buying baking powder under false impressions—they think they are getting 16 oz. or a full pound when they are really only getting 12 oz.—3/4 of a pound.

In order to keep the price down to compete with other brands, some manufacturers have reduced the contents of their large cans. If you don't look at the label—don't know exactly what you are getting when you buy these brands, you are apt to be 4 oz. or 1/4 of a pound short.

To get 16 oz.—a full pound, when you want it, buy Calumet. It costs less—you use less. It is made in the world's largest Baking Powder factories.

Keep Calumet in mind—it is the money saving kind.

By WILLIAM MacLEOD RAINE

Printed by permission of and by special arrangement with Houghton Mifflin Company.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

DAVE SANDERS, range rider on The D Bar Lazy R outfit, learns that his pet pony, Chiquito, has been stolen by

AD MILLER, a gambler, and his confederate,

GEORGE DOBLE. Miller and Doble are implicated in the kidnaping of EMERSON CRAWFORD, Sanders' employer. Dave rescues the ranchowner and saves him from his enemy.

BRADLEY STEELMAN. Dave meets and secretly loves

JOYCE CRAWFORD, his employers' daughter. He trails the horse thieves to Denver and recovers Chiquito after a gun fight in the dark. He is arrested, accused of the murder of Doble and is sentenced to ten years in prison. After his release he returns to Malapa, his old home, but believes that his prison record has made it impossible for him to hope for the hand of Joyce.

Dave meets Ad Miller, who also had just been released from prison. He foils Miller's attempt to shoot him and then meets Joyce for a minute. Dave goes to his old employer and takes up the oil business. He immediately runs into Steelman and Doble.

CHAPTER XVI

TOM Sanders, working on afternoon tower at Jackpot Number Three, the lean, tanned driller in charge of operations was wise with an uncanny knowledge the newcomer could not fathom. For eight hours at a stretch he stood on the platform and watched a greasy cable go slipping into the earth.

This spelt romance to Jed Burns, superintendent of operations, though he would never have admitted it.

He was sitting sand through his fingers when Dave came. To Bob Hart, present as Crawford's personal representative, he expressed an opinion.

"Right soon now or never. Sand tastes, feels, looks, and smells like oil. But you can't ever be sure. An oil prospect is like a woman. She will or she won't, you never can tell which. Then, if she does, she's liable to change her mind."

Dave sniffed the pleasing, pungent odor of the crude oil sands. His friend had told him that Crawford's fate hung in the balance. Unless oil flowed very soon in paying quantities he was a ruined man.

After his shift was over, he rode to town with Bob.

"Got to look for an engineer for the night tower," Hart explained as he drew up in front of the Gusher saloon.

The place hummed with the turbulent life that drifts to every wild frontier on the boom. Faro dealers from the Klondike, poker dealers from Nome, roulette croupiers from Leadville, were all here to reap the rich harvest to be made from investors, field workers, and operators.

Bob found his man at a faro table. While the cards were being shuffled he engaged him to come out next evening to the Jackpot properties.

While Dave was standing close to the wall he caught sight of Steve Russell.

The cowpuncher looked up and waved his hand.

Bob joined them. After an moment's conversation Russell drew them to a corner.

"Say, you heard the news, Bob?"

"I can tell you that better after I know what it is," returned Hart with a grin.

"The stage was held up at Cottonwood Bend this morning and robbed of $17,000. The driver was killed."

"Whose money was it?"

"Brad Steelman's payroll and a shipment of gold for the bank."

"Any idea who did it?"

"That's what I want'a tell you. Two men were in the job. They're whispering that Em Crawford was one."

"Crawford! Some of Steelman's fine work in that rumor, I'll bet. Tha's plumb foolish talk. What evidence does he claim?" demanded Hart.

"Em deposited ten thousand with the First National to pay off a note he owed the bank. Rode into town right straight to the bank two hours after the stage got in. Then, too, seems one of the hold-ups called the other one Crawford."

"A plant," said Dave promptly.

"They claim the second man was Dave here."

"Himp! What time d' you say this hold-up took place?"

"Must a' been about eleven."

"Let's Dave out. He was fifteen miles away, and we can prove it by at least six witnesses."

"Good. I reckon Em can put in an alibi too."

"I'll bet he can" Hart promised this with conviction.

"Where is Crawford now?" asked Dave. "He hasn't been arrested, has he?"

"Not yet. But he's bein' watched."

"We'd better go to his house and talk with him," suggested Hart.

"Maybe he can give as good an alibi as you, Dave."

"You and I will go straight there," decided Sanders.

• • •

Joyce opened the door to the knock of the young men. At sight of them her face lit.

"Oh, I'm so glad you've come!" she cried, tears in her voice. She caught her hands together in a convulsive little gesture.

Her father was sitting in a big chair, one leg thrown carelessly over the arm. He was smoking a cigar composedly.

"Come in, boys," he called. "Reckon you've heard that I'm a stage rustler and a murderer."

"Just now," said Bob. "They didn't arrest you?"

"Not yet. Sit down, and I'll tell it to you."

He had gone out to see a homesteader about doing some work for him. On the way he had met Johnson and Purdy, near the Bend, just before he had turned up a draw leading to the place in the hills owned by the man whom he wanted to see. Two hours had been spent riding to the little valley where the nester had built his corrals and his log house, and when Crawford arrived neither he nor his wife was at home. He returned to the road, without having met a soul since he had left it, and from there jogged on back to town. On the way he had fired twice at a rattlesnake.

"You never reached the Bend, then, at all," said Dave.

"No, but I can't prove I didn't." The old cattleman looked at the end of his cigar thoughtfully. "Nor I cayn't prove I went out to Dick Grein's place in that three-four hours not accounted for."

"Anyhow, you can show where you got the ten thousand dollars you paid the bank," said Bob hopefully.

A moment of silence; then Crawford spoke. "No, son, I cayn't tell that either."

Faint and breathless with suspense, Joyce looked at her father with dilated eyes. "Why not?"

"Because the money was loaned me on those conditions."

"But—but—don't you see, Dad?—if you don't tell that—"

"They'll think I'm guilty. Well, I reckon they'll have to think it, Joy."

The steady gray eyes looked straight into the brown ones of the girl. "I've been in this county boy and man for 'most fifty years. Any one that's willin' to think me a cold-blooded murderer at this date, why, he's welcome to hold any opinion he pleases. I don't give a damn what he thinks."

"The best explanation I can give, Joy, is to find out who held up the stage and killed Tim Harrigan. It's the only one that will satisfy my friends."

Some one was rapping on the front door impratively. The girl opened it, to let into the hall a man in greasy overalls.

"Where's Mr. Crawford?" he demanded excitedly.

"Here. In the sitting-room. What's wrong?"

"Wrong! Not a thing!" He talked as he followed Joyce to the door of the room. 'Expect that Number Three's come in the biggest gusher ever I see. She's knocked the whole superstructure galley-west."

Emerson Crawford leaped to his feet, for once visibly excited. "What?" he demanded. "Whn's that?"

"Jus' like I say. The oil's a-spoutin' up a hundred feet like a fan. Before morning the sump holes will be full and she'll be runnin' all over the prairie."

"Burns sent you?"

"Yep. Says for you to get men and teams and scrapers and gunnysacks and heavy timbers out there right away. Many as you can send."

Crawford turned to Bob, his face aglow. "Yore job, Bob. Spread the news. Rustle up everybody you can get. Arrange with the railroad grade contractor to let us have all his men, teams, and scrapers till we get her hogtied and harnessed. Big wages and we'll feed the whole outfit free. Hire anybody you can find. Buy a coupla hundred shovels and send 'em out to Number Three. Get Robinson to move his tent-restaurant out there."

Hart nodded. "What about this job at the Bend?" he asked in a low voice.

"Dave and I'll attend to that. You hump on the Jackpot job. Sons, we're rich, all three of us. Point is to keep from losin' that crude on the prairie."

"WHERE'S MR. CRAWFORD?" HE DEMANDED EXCITEDLY.

• • •

Jackpot Number Three had come in with a roar that shook the earth for half a mile. Deep below the surface there was a hiss and a crackle, the shock of rending strata giving way to the pressure of the oil pool. Rocks, clay, and sand were hurled into the air, to come down in a shower that bombarded everything within a radius of several hundred yards.

With the first faint streaks of day men came galloping across the desert to the Jackpot. They came at first on horseback, singly, and later by twos and threes. A buckboard appeared on the horizon, the driver leaning forward as he urged on his team.

There was an immediate stampede to make locations in the territory adjacent. The wildcatter flourished. Companies were formed in ten minutes and the stock subscribed for in half an hour. From the bootblack at the hotel to the banker, everybody wanted stock in every company drilling within a reasonable distance of Jackpot Number Three.

Meanwhile the oil holled up in the lake and flowed over its edges in streams. As soon as the second reservoir was ready the tarry stuff was siphoned into it from the original sump hole. By the time this was full a third pool was finished, and into it the overflow was diverted. But in spite of the great effort made to save the product of the gusher, the sands absorbed many thousands of dollars' worth of petroleum.

This end of the work was under the direction of Bob Hart. For ten days he did not take off his clothes. When he slept it was in cat naps, an hour snatched now and again from the fight with the rising tide of wealth that threatened to engulf its owners. He was unshaven, unbathed, his clothes slimy with tar and grease.

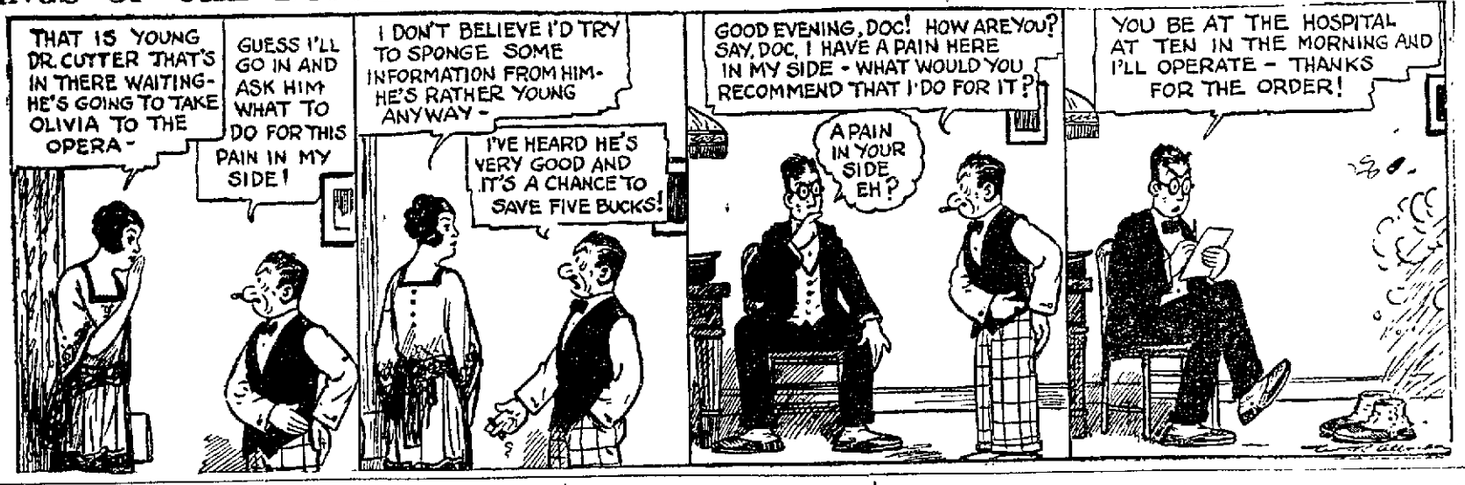

At the other end Jed Burns commanded. One after another he tried all the devices he had known to succeed in capping or checking other gushers. The flow was so continuous and powerful that none of these were effective.

RHEUMATISM HAD HIM IN ITS GRIP 50 YEARS

Restored to Splendid Health by Tanlac. Well Known Roxbury Citizen Makes a Remarkable Statement To Public.

Had Spent Thousands of Dollars and Tried Every Known Remedy Without Finding Relief.

"Getting rid of the rheumatism at this late day completely mystifies and had spent thousands of dollars," me, for I had had it for fifty years was the statement made, recently by William H. Hayes, a well-known resident of Roxbury, Mass., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac. Mr. Hayes has been identified with the people of Roxbury for forty years and is highly respected and esteemed by all who know him.

"This rheumatism got me when just a lad in my teens and, while I resorted to every known remedy, I kept getting worse as the years went by. For the past few years every bone in my body seemed to be aching clean to the marrow and my joints would get so stiff and sore it was agony to bend them. For two years past the pains in my feet and legs were so intense for days at a time that I could not put my feet on the ground. When I did get out I simply had to hobble along at a snail's pace. The pains finally settled in my arms, shoulders and hands. These two hands were so swollen and out of shape I could not hold a pen or pencil to write a letter. I couldn't sleep at night, saw no ease or comfort during the day, and life was truly a burden.

"Well, I was just about ready to give up the fight when my attention was called to Tanlac. How this medicine has done it I don't know, but I do know I haven't an ache or pain, and I believe I could get out there and walk a distance of five miles and make it in record time. To put it all in a few words, I am now in better condition than I have been in a half century. I don't think anybody could have better reasons for feeling thankful to Tanlac than I have."

Tanlac is sold by the Quaker Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere.

Charlotte Pasfield Becomes Bride of Douglas W. Vroom

The wedding of Miss Charlotte Pasfield of Springfield to Douglas Wright Vroom of Wallingford, Conn., was solemnized at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, at the St. Paul's Episcopal church, in Springfield.

The chapel was beautifully decorated. A large number of close friends and relatives attended the wedding ceremony. The bride's sister, Miss Susan Pasfield, attended her, as maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Magon Vroom of New York, was one of the bridesmaids.

A reception for the wedding party and immediate relatives followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Vroom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pasfield, who formerly lived in Decatur.

Many residents of central Illinois, who are spending the winter in Miami, Fla., participated in the organization of the Illinois Society recently in Miami. Over one hundred answered the call issued by Chairman W. J. Bennett of the board of directors. The meeting proved to be strictly an Illinois affair.

There was an interesting program provided, consisting of songs, which were written by a former resident of Illinois, and additional features of solos, duets, a Scotch highland dance, and a real Irish reel.

Mrs. Dorah Harpstrite will entertain with a pot luck dinner Thursday in her home, 928 North Edward street.

The Invalid's Tray

By Sister Mary.

When there is an invalid in the house nourishing drinks mean much to him or her. Very often solid is not acceptable and the beverage must be food as well as drink.

These recipes may suggest others to you.

ALBUMENIZED ORANGE JUICE.

One orange, 1 lemon, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 eggs (whites), crushed ice.

Squeeze juice from orange and lemon and strain. Make a hole in one end of the egg shell and shake the white out, clipping it with a pair of scissors to break the invisible membrane and prevent stringiness.

Put all ingredients in a shaker and shake vigorously until foamy. A few bits of ice should be shaken with the egg whites and juice. Pour over crushed ice and add enough cold water to fill the glass.

If a shaker is not at hand put the ingredients in a bowl and beat slightly with a dover beater.

EGG NOG.

One egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, few grains salt, 2-3 cup milk, nutmeg.

Beat white of egg till dry and stiff, beating in the sugar. When the white is stiff beat in the yolk. Add salt and beat in the milk. The milk should be very cold. Pour into a glass with a lump of ice, sprinkle liberally with nutmeg and serve.

HOT EGG DRINK.

One egg, 1½ cups milk, few grains salt, 2 teaspoons sugar if desired.

Beat egg with a Dover beater till very light. Heat milk, but do not let boil. Beat into egg, season with salt and add sugar. Serve at once very hot. In cases of extreme exhaustion this drink may be used as a stimulant.

EGG LEMONADE.

One egg, 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons sugar, cold water.

Beat egg well with sugar. Squeeze juice from lemon and strain into egg. Beat slightly and pour over crushed ice in glass. Fill with cold water.

BEEF TEA WITH EGG.

One-half cup beef juice, 1 egg yolk, salt, pepper if allowed.

If beef juice is not at hand dilute beef extract in the proper proportions to make ½ cup. Beat the yolk in the cup the tea is to be served in. Season lightly with salt and pepper. Heat the tea but do not allow it to boil. Pour over the egg, stirring briskly. Serve immediately. If the diet will permit serve thin strips of dry toast with the tea.

Never serve any kind of fruit juice without straining. Plain orange juice should be carefully strained before taking to an invalid.

Spare Time Jobs for Father

When there is a stiff wind blowing at night, the bedroom windows often rattle, preventing peaceful sleep. This is because the windows have too much room for play.

Stop the rattle by putting wooden pegs between the window and the casing. These make the window set tight.

For Greasing Tins.

When the paste has been used, save the jar in which it came, fill it with lard, buy a small new brush and put it in the center where the paste brush was. This is a very convenient arrangement for greasing the tops of bread or rolls and for greasing baking tins.

If Shoes Pinch.

If new shoes are a bit too tight wring a cloth out of hot water and while the shoe is on the foot put the damp cloth over the part that is too tight. The hot water causes expansion of the leather.

CREPE STILL POPULAR

BY MARIAN HALE.

New York, Feb. 6.—Crepe and other dull finished materials retain their popularity. Feminine folk are loath to accept materials with much of a sheen, just as all winter they have steadfastly refused to bring down the hem line of their day-time frocks. Long panels, such as those used in this Realart gown, are much used to give a lengthened effect and their vogue seems to be firmly established for spring.

Most of the gowns have long sleeves and not a few of them are loose at the wrist.

Grosgrain ribbon is exceedingly good as a trimming this season.

DOES YOUR SKIN GET SPOTTY WHEN DAYS ARE COLD?

BY MME. MOREAU.

Paris. — Those unlovely little splotches of red are so much more liable to appear on your face in winter. Skin seems to need the outdoor air, a nice soft air, to be really at its best.

So you're going to have to watch a little bit more diligently that pretty skin of yours, perhaps you'll have to use a little more bran and a little boracic acid.

First assure yourself that you aren't eating foods which are too rich and that that is not the cause of the undue redness which sometimes centers right on your otherwise very nice nose.

If your food isn't at fault then you can modify the condition by using bran water. Put the bran in a little bag in a bowl of water and let it boil. Then empty the bag into the water and wash your face in the mixture either with or without soap. Boracic acid helps, too. Put about one teaspoonful in a glass of water. Dash the mixture on your face, patting it dry afterwards.

Hot water, very hot, is good, too. Get a little spray and dash the hot water against your face. A few drops of vinegar or astringent toilet water added to the liquid will make it more effective.

Such a treatment is also helpful in doing away with brown spots which sometimes appear under eyes and at the side of the face near the hair line.

DYE STOCKINGS OR SWEATER IN "DIAMOND DYES"

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

GREIDER'S CAFE TO REOPEN TOMORROW

Greider's Cafe will be reopened Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock after being closed for a week or more, the first time in 22 years. Repairs have been made and everything is in readiness to serve the public in the satisfying manner which has made Greider's the popular eating place in Decatur for more than a score of years.

It is interesting to note that Greider's was the first cafe in Decatur to reduce prices of foodstuffs. Now splendid cooked meals can be obtained here at very moderate cost. This place was also first in Decatur to introduce a big Sunday dinner, giving the patron all he or she can eat for 75 cents.—Adv.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

STEAMER LETTER TO E. P. IRVING

Honored By Congregational Sunday School.

The entire Sunday school of the Congregational church assembled after the recitation period Sunday morning and honored E. P. Irving, who has been superintendent for more than thirty years. He and Mrs. Irving and their daughter, Miss Edwina, are leaving Wednesday for New York, from where they will sail at 5 p. m. Saturday on the Canadian liner "Empress of France" for the Mediterranean.

Robert Sanderson presented a mysterious package brought in by two primary tots to Mr. Irving and gave a brief speech. The package contained the best wishes of the school and greetings to be read by Mr. Irving on his trip. Besides this, an attractive book bound in limp leather was presented to Mr. Irving.

A STEAMER LETTER.

The book bore the inscription "A Steamer Letter for Mr. Irving." The book contained almost 100 class and individual letters from members of the Sunday school. A number contained little reminiscences of Mr. Irving's work as superintendent.

Mr. Irving answered:

"Nothing that you could have given me could have pleased me more than this. Be assured that I shall read these letters on our voyage and think of this school. I hope to be able to send replies, and tell you something of the Holy Land. An automobile trip down the Jericho road is one of the features promised."

When he finished the primary pupils came in and sang a "Good Bye" song.

The Irvings expect to be gone three months.

Pressure on Lungs Caused by Gas

Often a dull, full feeling in chest is caused by gas from undigested food pressing upwards towards lungs. Sometimes gas presses on heart and is mistaken for heart trouble. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels gas and stops pressure almost INSTANTLY in many cases. Removes surprising matter from BOTH upper and lower bowel which formed gas and poisoned stomach. Adlerika is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. The Decatur Drug Company.

George M. Cohan Has Unique Ideas About Running Team

Famous Playwright and Producer Tells of Some Reforms Which Would Improve Game.

BY GEORGE M. COHAN.

I have been a baseball fan all my life.

Ever since I was a kid I have cherished the idea of owning a big league ball club.

I have honestly tried to buy three or four clubs. However, I have never been successful.

Some people have said my offers were not real, that I was simply seeking some publicity, advertising for my theatrical ventures.

MAY SECURE CLUB.

I believe most people will agree that I am a pretty much advertised young man, I feel sure they will also agree that any publicity I received from offering to buy a ball club wouldn't have any particular effect on my business status.

Some time I may acquire a major league ball club. If I ever do I have a few reforms which I intend to institute.

Don't misunderstand me, I am not going to offer any playing reforms. The brand of baseball that is now being played suits me pretty well.

I know a lot of people are going to laugh when they read this chatter. I like to make 'em laugh and leave 'em that way).

FOR CLEAN UNIFORMS.

I am first for clean uniforms. If there is anything more disgusting than a baseball uniform that looks as if it never was laundried, I would like to know what it is.

On second thought I believe a chorus girl in a costume that has seen better days is even worse.

That is one thing I have always been very fussy about in my productions. The costumes must be kept clean and in good condition.

I have seen some ball players wear undershirts that simply reeked with dirt and perspiration. How they can stand such garments next to their skin is a mystery to me.

Major league ball clubs make a lot of money, it wouldn't cost very much to have four sets of uniforms instead of two. That would enable a team to constantly have a clean set of uniforms in reserve.

GAME NEEDS MORE ACTION.

Of course players perspire in the summer and sliding is part of the pastime. Baseball suits are bound to get soiled, but a change a week would remedy much of the objection that I have to uniforms as worn in the majors today.

I think the game could stand more action. The deaf and dumb coacher should be abolished. Give us more coachers like Hughey Jennings, Nick Altrock and the late Herman Schaefer.

More action, I believe, is the crying need of baseball.

With due modesty I feel that I first put "pep" in the chorus of a musical production. Now all producers regard "pep" as the basic principle for any good chorus.

I would have the players hurry in and out as they change innings. Baseball needs more "pep."

CNT STAND THE QUITTER.

The fans don't like to see some player walk to his position just as if he didn't care whether school kept or not. Run in and out.

I could inject some dope into the slow working pitchers, whose only excuse in so doing is to annoy the batter, affect his power of concentration and thereby lessen his batting ability.

The great pitchers like Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson and Grover Cleveland Alexander all are fast workers.

I have only two thoughts that bear on the playing end.

I would insist that my manager compel every player to run out every hit. I can't forgive the "quitter."

A player comes to the bat only four or five times in every game, so it isn't much of a task to insist that he run out every hit.

Fight the opposing players, not the umpire. Is my other suggestion for better baseball. If some players would use some of the energy on the field that they waste on the umpire they would be better ball players.

TRAPSHOOTERS AT KANSAS CITY MEET

Many Stars to Take Part in Interstate Event.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb 6—High guns of the trapshooting fraternity several fresh from competition southern fields, are expected on the grounds when the first target is released in the eighteenth annual Interstate Transhooting Tournament here today. The shoot will continue until February 12

The big event of the tournament is the international championship, but, according to experts here, the contests for the Interstate flyer cup and the interstate target cup promise keen competition for interest.

TWENTY-EIGHT TO COMPETE.

The international championship race is confined to twenty-eight shooters and the entry list, as announced, includes the names of Frank Troch, Vancouver, Wash; Martin McAvoy, New York; R. A King, St Louis; B. F. Elbert, Des Moines, Ia; J. E. Beard, Omaha, Neb Frank Hughes, Mohridae, South Dakota; M. B. Orr, Piqua, O.; E. C Wheeler, Pawhuska, Okla.; W. H. McCreary, La Junta, Colo.; Fred Etchen, Coffeyville, Kan.; Riley Thompson, Canesville, Mo; Harve Dixon, Oronogo, Missouri; F. J. Cairns, Tampa, Kan, and D K Dickinson, Merriam, Kan.

ETCHEN HOLDS CUP

Fred Etchen is holder of the Interstate Flyer Cup. The Kansas state champion will defend it against a large field of shooters. Keen competition also is expected to await Troch, holder of the interstate target cup Both shooters participated in the Sunny South Handicap at Houston, Tex., late in January, as did Hughes, Wheeler and several of the other entrants.

One of the feature events of the tournament, according to officials, will be the contest between all-Missouri and all-Kansas quads Arrangements also are being made for a match between all-Iowa and all-Pennsylvania teams

MORRISONVILLE IN NOKOMIS VICTORY

Morrisonville, Ill., Feb. 6—The local high basketball five won a fast game from Nokomis here Friday night by a score of 20 to 11 Nokomis led at half time 7 to 6 but the Morrisons five showed a classy brand of offensive and defensive ball in the second session to cop the honors

Close guarding was in evidence throughout the contest and the work of the defensive men on each team was the feature of the contest.

THE SUMMARY.

Morrisonville — Grundy, Wilson, Walker, forwards; Myers, center; Simpson, Phelps, Waggoner, guards.

Nokomis—Groogen, Schweder, forwards; Brown, center; Crochelti, Kettlekamp, guards.

Field goals—Wilson, 6; Groogan, 3; Schweden, 3; Grundy, Simpson.

Free throws—Wilson, 4; Groogan, 2.

Referee — Stephenson (Morrisonville).

Few Who Signed Letter

In order to get every fan in the city back of the movement for the organization of a Decatur Fans Association for the purpose of applying for a franchise in the Three-Eye League it was deemed advisable to invite about 125 men to the first or preliminary meeting which is to be held at the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

So that you fans may know who is behind the movement to give Decatur organized ball The Review herewith publishes the list of names signed to the letter which was sent out to various men of the city.

Here they are, all real baseball fans, and all with one purpose in view, to give Decatur baseball:

W. C. Starr, Rex Lawhead, R. H. Heil, Mont Peniwell, Pete Brilly, Bert Whitsitt, Edward Mitchell, Harry Spayd, Ray Hill, Tom Nevins, Frank S. Powers, Walter Hoots, Arthur Delahunty.

Baseball Boosters to Gather at Y Tonight

Will Perfect Temporary Organization to Save Game —At Tearney and Jack Ryan Come Tuesday.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

The opening guns of a campaign to secure Three Eye League baseball for Decatur this season will be fired tonight at 7:45 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. when a number of business and professional men of the city will gather for the purpose of perfecting a temporary organization.

Every one in the city seems to be for baseball and as soon as the temporary organization is formed committees will be named and a hurry up campaign for the disposition of from five to six hundred shares of stock will be made.

It is a matter which is of vital importance to every business and professional man in the city, as well as every fan and as soon as the stock is disposed of the first meeting of the stockholders will be held, at which time permanent directors and officers will be named for the administration of the affairs of the Decatur Fans' Association.

WILL MEET TEARNEY.

The meeting tonight will give local men a chance to have a working organization ready to meet Albert R Tearney, president of the Three-Eye League, upon his arrival in the city Tuesday for the purpose of aiding Decatur in their campaign for baseball.

Jack Ryan president of the Peoria club and a man who has a high standing in the minor league baseball world, has also advised friends in this city that he will be here for the purpose of offering any aid Decatur men may desire.

Ryan has been president of the Peoria Fans' Association since it was organized and will be able to offer many valuable suggestions to the local organization which in the end should save them many mistakes.

MUST ACT FAST.

Decatur must act for with the baseball season only a few months off it is imperative that a manager be signed and players secured for the city does not want to start out with a poor ball club.

Baseball for Decatur has been thrown on the fans themselves. It is not now possible to sit idly by and "Let John do it." All must get in the band wagon if the report is to be saved for the city this season.

Baseball is the sole purpose of the Decatur Fans Association and other interests must be put aside. The game is bigger than any of the men who may be connected with it that but one thing should be in the minds of every fan and booster: "BASEBALL FOR DECATUR IN 1922."

A. E. STALEY WILL ATTEND MEETING

A. E. Staley, the man who has given Decatur good baseball for the past two years, is one of the most enthusiastic boosters who desires to see the game continued in Decatur and the fact that he has offered the use of his beautiful field for next season at a nominal rent only goes to show that he means business

Mr. Staley has endorsed the movement on foot to have a Three Eye League club in Decatur and will attend the meeting this evening at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:45 o'clock.

Many other business men and representatives of good clean sport will be on hand to start the ball rolling for the purpose of organizing a Decatur Fans' association.

STALEY STAR TO ORGANIZED BALL

Otto Pahlman Signs with Reading for Season.

Otto Pahlman, for two years first sacker with the Staley ball club, and conceded by local fans as the classiest fielder ever seen on a Decatur field, has signed with the Reading, Pa, club of the New International League for the coming season, according to an announcement made by him Monday morning.

In going with the Reading team Pahlman will be in a league of the same caliber as the American Association and Pacific Coast League and although they have some great ball players in that best, especially with the Baltimore team, it is doubtful if any will be able to surpass Otto in the fielding end of the game

Last season he hit over .300 with the Staley team and if he can even keep the old batting average around 250 he will be one of the most valuable men on the Reading club

His many friends will watch his work with interest this coming season, for Pahlman was one of the kind to have the respect and admiration of the baseball fans. He will report to the training camp at Henderson, N. C., on March 22.

UNCROWNED CHAMP

Pal Moore occupies a unique position in pugilistic circles.

Moore is a legitimate bantam. He has been fighting for nine years.

During that time he has outpointed four holders of the bantam title, some of them decisively, yet he has never worn the crown.

The reason, of course, lies in the fact that Moore met the champs in no decision bouts. In each case he won the unanimous verdict of the newspaper men. Unfortunately for Pal the title does not go with such decisions.

When Kid Williams held the title, Moore outpointed Williams in a most decisive manner, if you are willing to accept the verdict of the newspaper men who sat at the ring side.

That battle was regarded as a mere flash in the pan by most of the fistic experts.

Then the title passed to Pete Herman. In a no decision affair, after Herman had won the title, Moore clearly outpointed the champion.

Once more Moore received very little credit for the performance. It was agreed that Herman simply had an off night.

Joe Lynch then came to the front and took the title from Herman. Shortly afterward Moore met the new champion at Louisville and gave Lynch a boxing lesson. Moore's superiority was so apparent that he began to receive serious consideration as a contender for the title.

In the meantime Johnny Buff took the honors for Joe Lynch. Then came a no decision bout at Milwaukee between Moore and Buff. For ten rounds Moore threw a million boxing gloves at Buff. Even Buff admitted he had been badly outpointed.

Moore is certainly entitled to a bout with Ruff for the title. Perhaps the Milwaukee bout caused Buff to decide on a trip abroad.

Moore holds the unusual title of uncrowned champion of the bantams.

SPORT SPLINTERS

In Dave Bancroft and Everett Scott the two New York clubs will still be able to boast of just about the cream of the major league talent at that position.

Ed Rommel of the Athletics says he is tired of playing in the major leagues for a minor league salary. Whereupon Connie Mack replies that Rommel is merely a minor league pitcher.

Since Frank Baker will soon permanently retire from the majors, the New York Americans intend to give Glenn Killinger, the famous Penn State star, every chance to make good at that position.

Major league scouts say that O'Connell, the $75,000 beauty purchased by McGraw for the Giants, will never make good at first base. McGraw counters by saying it is his intention to use him in the outfield.

The two St. Louis Clubs have called off their annual spring series. Both clubs figure they have a chance for the pennant, and fear coming north too soon will affect their condition.

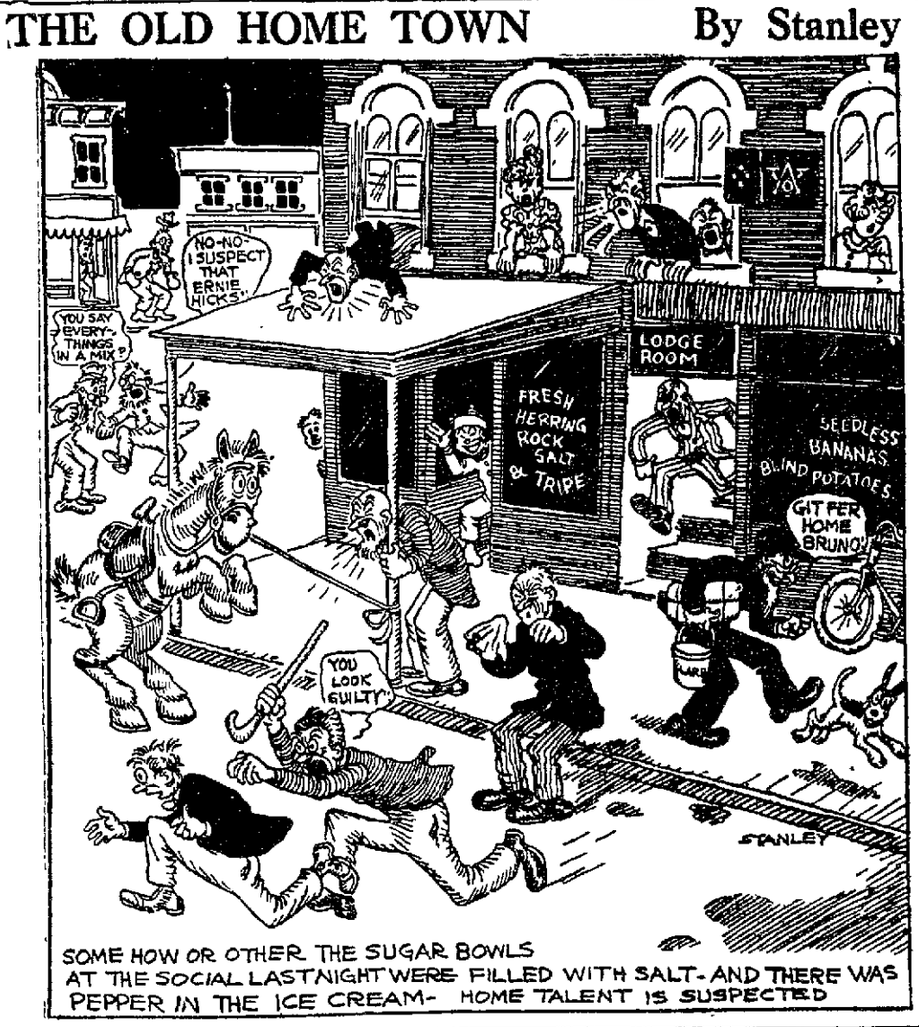

Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is strong for college players, is hopeful that Ernie Vick, the famous Michigan athlete who joins the Cardinals in the spring, will make good from the start. Vick was a crack college catcher.

Unless Kid Gleason can unearth a couple of pitchers who will be able to deliver, it looks like the second division for the White Sox in 1922. Neither Faber or Kerr can do any more than they did last season, and it has been proven that two stars cannot carry a club.

Desire Games.

Dalton City has organized an independent basketball team and desires to schedule contests with any central Illinois team. Call or write Frank Russell Dalton City, Ill.

THE DAM A REALITY

A lake fourteen miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide giving a water supply sufficient for 150,000 persons, created in 1921 by Decatur

NEXT:

More Hard Roads.

A RIGHT GOOD SHOWING.

The armament conference has now finished its work, with only a few odds and ends to be gathered together by subordinates. The body was in session twelve weeks.

On the whole, people of the world have reason to be pleased with the showing of results. Something more might have been accomplished, but to tell the truth they did more than most of us expected. In fact a great deal was accomplished, and doubtless the way was opened for other conferences that will do still more.

Frequently in reading current news one is regaled with the statement that Europeans have us in this country clearly outclassed when it comes to diplomacy. This gets said so often that it has come to be accepted without question on the part of many.

It is suggested that in this conference the thing that passes for diplomacy in America— the only kind we know—shows bigger results than has been shown at any other time in any other country. This meeting was called by Americans and its management was largely placed in their hands, so they should have a big measure of credit for the outcome. We have a notion that American diplomacy is easily enough holding its own.

There is a chance that we shall yet fail down, when all that was agreed on goes to our senate for ratification. There may be many snags in that quarter, but we are not entering the honorable senators as diplomats. We are only hoping they will not run wild and undo us.

THE REAL COMBINATION.

Miss Florence Atkinson is reported as complaining of the way newspapers have written her up, saying: "If I did not come from a prominent family there would have been nothing said in the papers."

It strikes us that Miss Atkinson has all that wrong. The feature of the case that attracted attention of reporters was the story that she was a most charming woman, to which was added that she also was the possessor of a head of red hair. That made a combination not to be resisted.

In the first place all of us, readers as well as reporters, are interested in charm, inveigled in fact. It isn't just now the rarest thing in the world, but it remains the most pleasing, and it will continue so to the end of time. It isn't always that a reporter is privileged to go ahead and let himself out on charm, and when he does get a chance he is excused for overplaying it just a little.

And then there was the item of red hair. Many of us are growing to be fond of this. It is always genuine, and it means youth. It isn't a color in hair that can be bought in the store, and we are not sure that it ever turns gray.

The plain fact is that if you are charming and red-headed you must expect the natives to take a second look and then tell a fervid story.

A PROBLEM OF SIZE.

A few days since it was mentioned that the manager of a movie picture house would try to learn just what is wanted by patrons here. He ought to be a rather busy man for some time to come.

We are not sure that he will learn much he can put in practice, the trouble being he is likely to discover it would take about a dozen different playhouses going all the time to put on pictures to meet the varied preferences that will come in. Just try the thing on the first dozen people you meet and maybe you can learn it will take a half dozen different pictures to please their fancy.

It is felt by many of us that the howling crime called "comedy" in the movies might be cut out. Then we go to a picture and discover that the abomination sends many of the patrons into their highest possible ecstacies of delight. What is to be done about all this? It won't help to have censors, because if they have any practical sense they will be busy at something else. It is an everlasting problem, and yet the movie manager manages somehow to keep on smiling. What a harp player he will make by and by!

WAY TO WIN APPROVAL.

At a meeting held in the Roach school Mrs. Inez J. Bender said in substance: "Whatever feeling the foreigner has for the government of the United States is caused by the attitude of the American people towards him." She was speaking in support of neighborliness and of the foreigner who comes here to live.

There is much in what Mrs. Bender said, and it will be well for us to give it some thought. The reception a person gets in a community has nearly everything to do with his feeling toward its people. If he and the natives get along happily of course he must think well of them and their country; any other feeling on his part would be unnatural and not to be expected.

One is aware that the rule is not without exceptions. It is possible that a caller is treated well and yet fails to take on a natural feeling of appreciation and regard, we do have instances of this. But these are exceptions, not by any means the rule. Be neighborly and the other fellow is practically compelled to reciprocate in kind.

KNEW IT MUST COME.

In the second trial of Roscoe Arbuckle at San Francisco the lawyers for the defense let the case go to the jury without making any kind of closing argument. They assumed that the state had made out a poor case, that the jury must understand this, so it wasn't necessary to prolong the agony with further oratory.

But ten of the twelve jurors got another notion in their heads. They thought attorneys for the defense said nothing because there wasn't anything they could say, another case of the small boy caught in the pantry with jam spread over his young face.

Not infrequently there is mention of an important case that goes to the jury without argument from the defense side. Usually the thing works out as the defense expected, but now it seems it will not do to hitch up with this proposition. Next time Arbuckle is tried you can put it down that his lawyers will have plenty to say by way of parting salutations to the jurors

CONGRESS HEARD ABOUT IT.

Dr. Herbert Willet of the University of Chicago went all the way to Oregon to tell the folks in an agricultural college there that the average intelligence of people in this country is that of pupils in the sixth grade in the public schools.

This would be an intelligence of about 12 years, which is about the average got through tests that were applied in the army when we went into the big war.

In spite of these figures we keep right on claiming to be the most intelligent people in the world, and we have just about made all the other fellows believe it. One gathers from this that while we may not know much we are pretty handy when it comes to putting up a front to impress the other fellow.

We are sorry these figures were ever gathered and published. Congress has taken them as warrant that it will be all right to go ahead and treat us as 12-year-olds, that this is all that is coming to us. In this matter the scientists have done us a poor service.

THE COLLEGE IN REVERSE.

The sporting pages tell us that many members of college faculties are worried over the athletic situation in the schools. Several of these complain that college athletics, always amateur sports, are running into too much money. Again we hear the remark that the situation is not wholesome when a coach in a college gets more pay than the president of the school, to say nothing of the pittance handed out to plain faculty members.

Public attention is likely to get a trifle lopsided when word goes out that coaches are the best paid men about colleges; this will have a tendency to relegate mere scholarship to second rank. This may not be so bad in some places, but college doesn't happen to be its place. Here there must be insistence that scholarship must come first in its own shrine. Alumni, it is said, can help by taking notice.

FEW CRUMBS LEFT

Holdup gents and yeggmen are finding poor picking in Shelbyville and that neighborhood. A safe was blown at Neoga and the loot amounted to 40 cents. A reporter was held up in Shelbyville and the harvest was 2 cents. Another person held up in the town netted a big zero.

That is a sensible way to go about curing the bandits. If they can't gather a harvest they must take up some other line to get a living. We don't know what the bandit does when forced to change vocations, but there isn't any room for him to grow worse.

We take it that the engineer on this new gas-electric car on the railroads just quits his job when the starter refuses to "turn her over."

Judge McCoy's class in mathematics will please figure for us how long Bloomington may be expected to last with forty fires a week.

But you will please observe that Dr. Darling continues to run at large, Mr. McBride being busy with the constitutional convention.

It is just possible that Mr. Kenyon foolishly got tired of the senate before he was clear of the big woods; he may have to guess again.

Dixon in this state is another town in which the jury drank all the evidence and then acquitted the defendant, meaning "call again."

While he must have a full share of troubles, we still assume that Coach Wann is the kind of good stuff that keeps on smiling.

Last week's auto show in Chicago had the largest paid attendance in its history, so somebody must be figuring on buying a car.

It occurs to us that Hollywood these days is beating Los Angeles to a reserved seat on the front page.

The movies overlooked a bet in not being ready for Sarah Bernhardt fifty years ago, and it is our loss.

About Town

THEY were meandering—yes, that is the proper word—along East Main street Saturday evening. It wasn't very early, and it wasn't very late. All the lights were on and many people besides themselves were on the street in that particular section of town. It was the brightly lighted district between Main and Water streets, but that didn't make any difference—at least not much difference; for as they walked along slowly and with heads close to each other, apparently they were oblivious to their surroundings.

At any rate, just as they got directly in front of one of the illuminated show windows, seemingly they could not resist the lure of the two-lips, for there was a surrounding smack that was both seen and heard. Really one would have thought that they were old enough to have curbed their osculatory impulses, for he was about forty and she was not much his junior.

There was some speculation among the observers as to whether they were celebrating a reunion after a long parting, husband and wife, newly weds, doing it on a bet, or jus plain mushy. What would be your guess?

SHOULD MAKE DATE FOR CONFERENCE

Revenue Collector Gives Advice as to Washington.

To save themselves time and trouble, and, in many cases, unnecessary expenditures, taxpayers having business with the income tax unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Washington and desiring conference with officials in connection therewith, are advised to ask for such conference in advance, G. W. Schwaner, internal revenue collector at Springfield announces.

A number of taxpayers and their representatives appear at the income tax unit without appointment, and ask immediate hearings. Frequently the conference cannot be held at once for the reason that the papers and information relating to the case must be assembled or the proper official may be otherwise engaged. The result is a delay of a day or two, and added cost to the taxpayer in the way of hotel bills, etc.

Requests for conference should be addressed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., together with a statement of all facts in connection with the cases, and the purpose for which it is desired. The taxpayer will be informed by letter or telegram of the date appointed for the conference.

EXPERIENCE.

I've lived through forty kindly years,
I've been a little boy at play,
My mother used to dry my tears
And kiss my little hurts away;
I've trudged to school against my will,
I've wondered why I had to go,
I've been through many a childish ill
All boyhood's joys and cares I know.

I've been the dreamy, sallow youth
Who thinks himself so very wise;
Once on a time, to tell the truth,
I placed much stock in fancy ties
And pointed shoes and yellow spats,
For I was only twenty then.
But now I've one regret, and that's
The way I sneered at older men.

I've been impatient to suceed,
I've dreamed my dreams and some in vain,
I've pictured many a splendid deed
By which my goal I should attain;
I've played the sighing lover, too,
I've stood to grief and suffered woe,
All that a man must journey through
At some time has been mine to know.

And this I've learned, that one and all
Follow the common path of life,
We share its game as children small,
And later share its days of strife.
Now looking backwards, I can see
That much I railed against was good,
When time had made it plain to me
And what seemed harsh, I understood.

HURRY!

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Nine-tenths of the hurry to dress, to eat, to work, the hurry to appointments and the hurry home from work is foolish and altogether unnecessary.

The hurry habit is just one more by-product of civilized life and it is often the promoter of much sickness and ill-health. The man who is always in a hurry, as a rule, bolts his meals, tires his body and strains his nervous system.

Some one has humorously called this the "jazz age" and has pointed out the fact that man's average length of life has been extended several years above the longevity average of a decade or so ago.

But it is not because of hurry that man's life has lengthened. It is because the general public is becoming more educated to methods of keeping well. Science is triumphing over diseases which once caused great plagues and great scourges. The people who are always in a hurry are dragging down the average length of life.

In general, the hurry habit causes much fatigue and it is fatigue that is an underlying cause of a great deal of sickness. This is because an exhausted body offers but little resistance to the attacks of any disease germs.

Hard work never hurt any one, but hurry and hard work cannot be combined. The hardest workers are the most careful of their health.

In preventing bodily fatigue a great deal depends upon the rate of speed at which the muscles are required to work. Working steadily but not too fast, the muscles have the chance to throw off the refuse products, at the same time bringing in new fuel or energy for further work.

Rest is the great repairer of muscles and nerves. It gives the muscles the time which they must have to get rid of their poisons and replace their small store of energy.

The comparison between the human body and an automobile has often been used. You cannot use your car day in and day out, rushing to and fro, without taking care of it. So with the body. Hurry without sufficient rest, without sufficient time for meals and exercise always brings a breakdown in the human machine.

State Brevities.

To Zone Rockford.

Rockford, Feb. 6—A zoning commission of three will be appointed by Mayor J. H. Hallstrom to draft a zoning ordinance to restrictt the type and character of building that may be erected in all quarters of the city. An appropriation of $2,000 has been made for making a survey and drafting the plans of the commission.

500 More Students.

Moline, Feb. 6—About 500 more students have enrolled in the Moline public schools for the second semester than were enrolled during the first term of the year. The enrollment probably will total 5,400. Six new teachers have been added.

Students Donate Shoes.

Quincy, Feb. 6—Old shoes, donated by citizens of Quincy and repaired by the students of the vocational training school at Nauvoo will be distributed to the needy poor of the city by the local post of the American Legion through the Red Cross.

A THOUGHT For TODAY

And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you, and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations. I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.—Genesis 9: 12, 13.

My heart leaps up when I beheld
A rainbow in the sky;
So was it when my life began,
So it is now I am a man;
So be it when I shall grow old—
Or let me die.
William Wordsworth.

Little Benny's Notebook

I was wawking home from skool today and I came to 2 tuff looking kids having a fearse argewment about wich one could wissle throo their fingers the loudest, one saying, Aw go on, I can wissle twice as loud as you you sound like a deef and dum fish alongside of me.

Jest because you say so that dont prove nuthing, holey smoaks if I couldent wissle eny louder than wat you can Id dry up and blow away, sed the 2nd kid, and the ferst kid sed, O all rite, all rite, well Ill jest bet you a cent and we'll leeve this heer kid hold the stakes and be the judge. Meening me, and the 2nd kid sed, Put up or shut up. And they both took a cent out of their pants pockit and handed it to me without me saying weather I wunted to be the stake holder or not, the ferst kid saying, Now, kid, if you wunt to heer a wissle like you never herd before, lissen to this.

And he put 2 fingers half ways in his mouth and blew a fearse loud wissle sounding like the werld was coming to a end, and the 2nd kid put 4 fingers all the ways in his mouth and blew a wissle sounding like the werld had alreddy come to a end. Me thinking, G, he gets the 2 cents.

Wich jest wen I was going to say so the ferst kid sed, Well I gess that proves I can wissle louder than you and if this kid says diffrent Ill smeer him across the face. Me thinking, G, maybe his was the loudest after all. And I was jest going to say so and the 2nd kid sed, If this kid aint got sents enuff to say I wisseled the loudest Ill poke him sutch a crack in the jaw he'll wake up in the hospital, and the ferst kid sed, O is that so, well if I hit him he'll wake up in 2 hospitals.

Me thinking, Heck, good nite. And I sed, It was a tie, thats wat it was, heers your sents back. And I gave them their cents back and they wunted to have the contest all over agen but I sed, No, I haff to go somewares, I haff to go, Im going now.

Wich I did. LEE PAPE.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

FEBRUARY 6, 1912.

Mayor Dinneen and other representatives of the city met receivers for the Wabash railroad in St. Louis relative to a subway under the Wabash at Jasper street and were assured it would be built if the courts took favorable action.

Residents of the 800 block North College street had a big birthday surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Henry in honor of the birthdays of J. E. Stumpf, Mrs. J. O. Henry, Mrs. Michael Hayes and Mrs. Jane Stumpf.

There were 222 farm products exhibits at the Farmers' Institute, 57 of these being apples. There were 138 domestic science exhibits

Rev. J. Murphy, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church announced a new school would be erected during the year.

The annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held. Reports showed 714 members and that finances for the year showed a balance.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

The cold weather had caused the freezing of gas pipes in all parts of the city.

Henry Roberts, director of the Roberts orchestra went to Phoenix, Ariz., where he had an engagement with an orchestra.

Now a written guarantee to grow hair

No hair—no money is our proposition

WE have a new method of treating the scalp. It grows hair. It stops falling hair. Under actual clinical tests it grew hair on 91 heads in each hundred treated.

This is to offer it to you. Results are guaranteed. If we fail, you pay nothing. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. Hence you assume no risk in testing it. The name is the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage.

Dermatologists used to believe that a bald head meant dead hair roots. We have proved this incorrect. The roots seldom die. Four men in 7 are bald or partially bald at 40. Yet only 5 men in 100 need ever be bald.

For 95% of all hair troubles are traced to infected Sebum.

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the roots of hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.

But frequently it becomes infected. It cakes on the scalp. It plugs the follicles and chokes them. It forms a breeding place for bacteria—germs by the millions feed upon the hair and destroy it.

It invites semi-baldness. Soon total baldness follows. But it does not kill the hair root. Remove the infected Sebum—normal hair growth is resumed. This is scientific fact. We guarantee results in writing.

We urge you to try it. Then note results in two weeks. Note the healthy condition of the scalp—the freedom of dandruff, how falling hair is stopped.

Obtain it at your druggist's. Your money returned if results are not obtained. Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage, made by Van Ess Laboratories, 5007 Lake Park Ave., Chicago, Ill.

TRY TO IDENTIFY WALKER.

The John J. Walker who was murdered in Excelsior Springs with papers in his pocket indicating that he was born in Shelby county, and about whom the authorities here have been trying to get information, may be the son of Robert W. Walker who was born and reared near Quigley. This belief is strengthened by the fact that Mr. Walker is known to have a son about that age, 28, and that he has been in the west. Robert Walker and family moved to Moorecroft, Wyo., twenty-five years ago and are still living there. John Walker left home when he was quite young and since then has been living in various places. Sheriff Biggs sent a telegram to Excelsior Springs, Mo., telling the authorities there to get in touch with Robert Walker at Moorecroft.

The Christian Woman's Missionary society met in the parlors of the church Friday afternoon for their regular February meeting. Mrs. Anna Chew, the president presided over the business session. Miss Hattie Bivins conducted the literary program and the devotions were led by Mrs. J. D. Miller. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Miller, Mrs. William Lumpp, Miss Mayme Miller, Mrs. Mattie Kimlel, Mrs. Slade and Mrs. L. H. Parker. Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Rebecca Peck, and Miss Edna Miller and Miss Mary Peck.

TONY BARKER ARRESTED

Tony Barker was arrested by Sheriff Will Biggs, Friday on a charge of transporting liquor in Moultrie county. He was lodged in the Shelby county jail. Saturday Chief of Police Getz of Sullivan took the man to Sullivan to answer the charge against him.

CALF'S KICK FATAL TO M. RICHMAN

Villa Grove, Feb. 6—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Richman who reside in the south part of town, received a message [illegible] night that their son, Marshall, had died in a hospital in Kansas.

The deceased was kicked by a calf he had raised and was injured internally. He was hurried to a hospital and died from the injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Richman left here about two years ago. His wife before her marriage was Miss Pangburn [illegible] Murdock. The remains were brought here Sunday and interment will take place Monday. He was a member of the Methodist church.

The dinner given by the ladies of the Methodist church Wednesday noon was a great success. The proceeds was $107.

PLEASURE AND PROFIT

Mrs. Clyde Maxfeld was hostess for Pleasure and Profit Thursday. There was a very large crowd present. Refreshments of Angel Food cake, [illegible] Bavarian cream and coffee were served.

Mrs. Al Welch read a paper on Methodist hospitals and Mrs. Maxfeld sang "From where a voice is calling." The hostess was assisted by Mesdames Goodin, Hupp, Miller and Schick.

The play given in the high school auditorium Thursday night entitled "Mon Talks," was well attended and heartily enjoyed by those present. The high school orchestra added much to the pleasure of the evening.

CLUB MEETING

The Woman's club will have its February meeting Wednesday at which time the girls of the high school will be guests. The following program will be given: Paper on Statues of Lincoln—Mrs. Stella Feitinger, reading "Lincoln Walks at Midnight," vocal selections, Miss Gladys England, Miss Helen Delore, Woman's quartet.

Mrs. J. B. Cole of Monticello is visiting her husband who has just opened a monument store here.

Midge Shumaker, who has been critically ill for about six weeks, is reported some better and her friends now have hopes of her complete recovery.

Ruth Ellen, little daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Helm, is quite ill with sore throat.

Mrs. W. G. Lloyd of the Methodist parsonage is convalescing from a recent illness.

Mrs. S. Farner visited in Danville Friday.

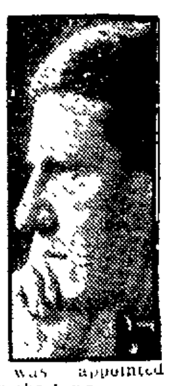

Mrs. J. B. Johnson is visiting her brother and wife in Chicago.

Miss Gertrude Richman visited her aunt, Mrs. E. D. Blake in Camargo last week.

WANTED AT JOLIET

The three young men arrested here early Thursday morning as suspicious characters and on whom were found two revolvers a black jack and skeleton keys, and who were taken to the federal jail at Danville Thursday afternoon, were found to be wanted at Joliet, one for violating his parole and the other two for other offenses. Officers from that city took them to Joliet Saturday morning.

UNUSUAL STORIES ABOUT UNUSUAL PEOPLE

London—James Stuart Murphy, duke of Atholl, is the only non-royal person in the world who supports a private army.

The duke is one of the greatest landowners in the United Kingdom. In 1845 Queen Victoria gave his ancestors permission to keep a private army in the Scotch highlands.

So Murphy has three regiments called the Atholl Highlanders.

Murphy recently was appointed lord chamberlain by the king.

In the City's Churches

One hundred and five young people of the First Christian church attended the party given at Christian endeavor Sunday evening honoring the Millikin students who attend the church. Stephen J. Corey of St. Louis, a missionary worker told about the largest Christian Endeavor in the world in Africa. His talk was interesting. Miss Vernita Guldberg led the meeting. Her subject was "World Wide Christian Endeavor". Miss Vivienne Mosbarger sang "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes", (Bartlett). She was accompanied by Miss Helen Hill. A male quartet, consisting of Emmett Conner, Mont Henderson, Ross Hellyer and George Haupt sang also.

Preceding the Christian endeavor, [illegible] Miss May Myers and Miss Gladys Phillis being hostesses. The reception committee included [illegible] Clifford McKelvey and Miss Jo[illegible] Davis. The room was decorated [illegible] the Millikin colors blue and white.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church, will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the church parlors, with a Washington Birthday picnic-supper, which will be served at 6 o'clock. Each member please bring sandwiches and one other dish, also bring silverware and dishes. A program has been provided by the Young Women's Home Missionary society.

The high school section of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church, had an interesting meeting Sunday evening, led by David Paisley, whose subject was "Around the World." A. M. Kenney addressed the young people, and Dr. C. E. Jenney had charge of the installation services.

The following officers were elected. President, John Ditto; vice president, Angeline Saling; secretary, Virginia Holmes; treasurer, Junior Rothfuss; missionary chairman, Isabel Robiffson; look-out committee, Fanny Powers and Douglas Johnson; prayer meetings, Marjorie Sullivan and Margaret Marcott; social meetings, Elizabeth Tait, Lynn Pensinger and Roy Sutter.

After the meeting the young people were surprised by being invited to the dining room by Miss Margaret Marcott, who had a large birthday cake with forty-one candles on it, in honor of the forty-first birthday anniversary of the organization of the Christian Endeavor. Cake and hot chocolate were served.

ANDREW HEMINGER DIES AT AGE 85

Had Been In Failing Health For Some Time.

Andrew Heminger, well known retired farmer, died at 6 o'clock Sunday evening at his home, 431 West Main street. He was eighty-five years old in December. He had been in failing health for some time, but was able to be up and around the house until three days ago, when his illness became acute. His death was due to complications incident to old age.

Mr. Heminger was born Dec. 12, 1836, in Stark county, O. There he resided until 1857, when he decided to go west. He went as far as Kansas City, Mo., but after a few weeks he came back to Illinois and located on a farm near Cerro Gordo. He was engaged in farming there when, in 1862, he enlisted in company K of the One Hundred and Seventh Illinois Volunteer Infantry, serving until the close of the war. He then returned to Cerro Gordo and resumed farming, being thus engaged until twenty-five years ago, when he retired and moved to Decatur.

Mr. Heminger was an honorary member of the official board of Grace Methodist church, and was also a member of Cerro Gordo post, No. 210, G. A. R. Mr. Heminger and Miss Melinda Schoolcraft were married Jan. 23, 1877. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Maude H. Wallace of Webster Grove, Mo., and Mrs. Bertha F. Cobb of Decatur. He also has two sisters and three brothers.

Witt Defeated.

The Witt Basketball team played the Benld team at Benld Friday night and came home with defeat to the tune of 45-19.

WILLIAM OTTA DIES SUDDENLY

Apparently In Good Health Sunday Noon.

William Otta died suddenly about 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the family residence, 609 West Eldorado street. He was fifty-three years old. Death is believed to have been due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Otta had been apparently in his usual health and had enjoyed his Sunday dinner and was sitting in his chair reading when Mrs. Otta went to the upper part of the house. When she returned a few moments later he was dead and sitting upright in his chair. A physician was called and arrived in a few minutes, but life was extinct. Mr. Otta had not complained of being ill and his death was a great shock to his family.

Mr. Otta was born Jan. 16, 1869, on a farm near Moweaqua. He and Miss Louisa M. Weidner of Dorchester were married Sept. 8, 1896. He was engaged in farming near Moweaqua until about five years ago, when he retired and moved to Decatur. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Earl R. Otta and Dewey L. Otta, both of Decatur. He also leaves his father, August Otta of Decatur, who had gone to Florida to spend the winter, and the following brothers and sisters: Henry Otta and Mrs. W. P. Sanner of Moweaqua, Mrs. F. E. Bauer of Bunker Hill, Mrs. O. F. Bauer of Macon, Mrs. Edward Cornthwait of Elwin, Mrs. Harriet Perry of Lowell, Mich., and Mrs. Bertha Conel and Emma Otta and Clara Otta, all of Decatur.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Still Undefeated.

Villa Grove, Ill., Feb 6—The Villa Grove high school five is still undefeated for the season and Friday night added another victory to its list with a 27 to 7 win over St. Joseph Reynolds, Hulse and Combs were the stars for the locals.

CORN ADVANCES TO 40 CENTS BUSHEL

Much Strength Shown in Face of Deliveries.

Corn went to forty cents a bushel for the station buyers here Monday The course grain has been showing strength for some days in spite of rather heavy deliveries in the terminal markets and Monday shippers raised their offers to the long hoped for figure of forty cents a bushel

Oats stepped up to twenty-nine cents

Hogs continued their upward flight Monday and local packers marked their prices for the choice light stock to $8 75 for tops Heavier hogs are also bringing more money than they were the steady holding of the farmers of their hogs for feeding purposes seeming to keep down receipts

"We are putting legs on the corn" said one farmer in speaking of the feeding of the low priced corn to high priced hogs

Eggs were advanced again Monday shippers now offering thirty five cents a dozen with higher figures in sight Poultry is firm

WHEAT MARKET CLOSING FIRM

May Hits Highest Mark Since September.

Chicago Feb 6—Renewal of aggressive buying in the wheat market early today led to a decided upward swing in prices The upturn here was stimulated by an advance in quotations at Liverpool and Buenos Aires and optimistic views expressed by leading authorities here Both the May delivery and the July delivery touched the highest level of prices attained since the recent advance began The opening, which varied from ⅛ to ⅞c higher, with May $1 25¼ to $1 25⅝ and July $$1 09 to $1 09⅞, was followed by material further gains before the market showed any tendency to react

May delivery got above $1 28 for the first time since Sept 27, 1921 Liberal export sales were reported and there was a sharp decrease in the domestic visible supply total. The close was firm, 2⅛c to 3½c net higher, with May $1 28⅜ to $1 28½ and July $1 10⅛ to $1 10¾.

BUYING STOPS

Reports of a nearly complete stoppage of selling by rural holders did a good deal to lift corn prices After opening unchanged to ½c higher May 56¼ to 56½c the corn market scored sharp general gains

Shorts found but little corn offering and were urgent bidders as prices moved upward The close was firm, at 2⅛ to 2⅝c net advance, with May 58⅜ to 58⅝.

Oats ascended with other grains, starting ⅛c off to ⅛@¼c higher, May 39⅝ to 39¼c, and later advancing all around.

Provisions rose in response to the action of prices for cereals and hogs

FRESH PORK PRICES REMAIN UNCHANGED

Export Trade Reported As "Fairly Good."

Chicago, Feb 6—The two outstanding features of the meat trade during January from the viewpoint of the consuming public were the fact that wholesale prices of fresh pork remained practically unchanged despite an increase of about two dollars per hundred in the cost of live hogs and the vigorous demand for ham, a statement by the Institute of American Meat Packers said Sunday

Light stocks of pork at market centers indicates that packers have refused to accumulate large stocks at present prices the report said Packers were cautious about putting pork in storage at relatively high cost, it was stated

EXPORT REPORTED GOOD

An effort is being made to market as much pork as possible while it is fresh rather than to place it in cure

Export trade was described as fairly good' for January, there being a good trade with European countries and with England The market for live cattle showed a lower trend because cattle receipts and beef shipments in January were heavier than for the latter part of December, said the statement Cattle was also converted into fresh meat as much as possible it was stated Live lambs advanced steadily during the month an increase of over two cents being shown the report said

WANT CLEVELAND AVENUE OPENED

City Engineer Ordered to Prepare Plans.

A petition signed by J L McNulty, T C Buxton and B F Stanley, representing the Riverside Fathers and Community club was brought to the city council Monday morning asking that the project for the extension of Cleveland avenue from Broadway to Webster street be revived and put through

During the discussion it developed that this project had been allowed to sleep for various reasons after it had been started some months ago, the principal reason being that it was the belief of the city council members that Oglesby street should be widened and made an extension of Cleveland avenue taking that thoroughfare in its full width of fifty feet not only to Broadway but also to South Franklin street so that advantage could be taken of the subway under the Illinois Central

TO PREPARE PLANS

A resolution was finally passed directing the engineer to prepare plans and specifications not only for the Cleveland avenue extension but also for the widening of Oglesby street "and then we must have an ordinance changing the name of Oglesby to Cleveland avenue said the mayor for it will be a part of that street"

With about 100 children from the Riverside district attending the Jackson street school the fathers and mothers of that district have been fearful of an accident to the youngsters while going through that dangerous dip in Cantrell street near the old brewery buildings

This extension of Cleveland avenue will eliminate this danger

Commissioner Harry Ruthrauff was against the project because he favors a subway in Cantrell street under Broadway

"Ought to have them both We will sometime," said the mayor.

ROLLIN MALLORY GOES TO CHICAGO

POLICE NOTES.

Mrs Earl Vest, 550 South Webster street, reported to the police that a thief entered her home Sunday night and stole about forty cents, two keys and an open faced watch, Illinois movement No 1764154, in a Dueber case

Miss New a nurse at the Decatur and Macon County hospital, notified the police that about 8 30 o clock Monday morning a young man was encountered in the hall at the nurses' home and when asked what he wanted he inquired about the lights He was asked if he meant the wiring, and he said 'No, the lights' Before he could be questioned further he hurried out of the building and went toward the car line A few minutes later a purse was missed from one room and $10 from another The police are looking for the young man.

ROBBERS GET $104 IN TWO HOLD-UPS

Tea Garden and Diller Market Entered.

The Canton Tea garden was robbed of $44 early Sunday morning The robbery was not discovered until about 7 o clock When employes of the cafe reported for duty Sunday morning they found the cash register had been forced open and the money gone This is the first time that the new restaurant has been visited by thieves The burglar left no clew

ROB DILLER MARKET

The robbers who held up the W. H Diller meat market at 809 North Broadway Saturday night secured $60 from the cash register It was fortunate for the two hold-ups that W H Diller was in the rear room or someone would have been killed for it will be remembered that when an attempt was made some time ago to hold up the meat market W H Diller grabbed up a cleaver and jumped for the would-be hold-up men and they fled without firing a shot or getting anything

Saturday night W H Diller was in the rear room reading and did not know what was going on in the front room until Tracy F Diller shouted to him Then the elder Diller grabbed his revolver that he has kept handy since his first experience with robbers, and dashed after the men as they fled through the door He fired two or three shots after them, but it was very dark and raining and they were soon lost sight of

WERE YOUNG MEN

Tracy Diller was standing with his back to the door, cutting up meat on the block and did not hear them come in and did not know of any danger until he was commanded to hold up his hands and keep still. He could do nothing but comply. As they turned to go he let out a yell that brought W H Diller to the front with the gun

The men are said to be young men, but their faces were concealed one having a blue handkerchief tied over his face and the other wearing a white handkerchief for a mask

Christian Co. Women Join in Fox Drive in Regular English Style

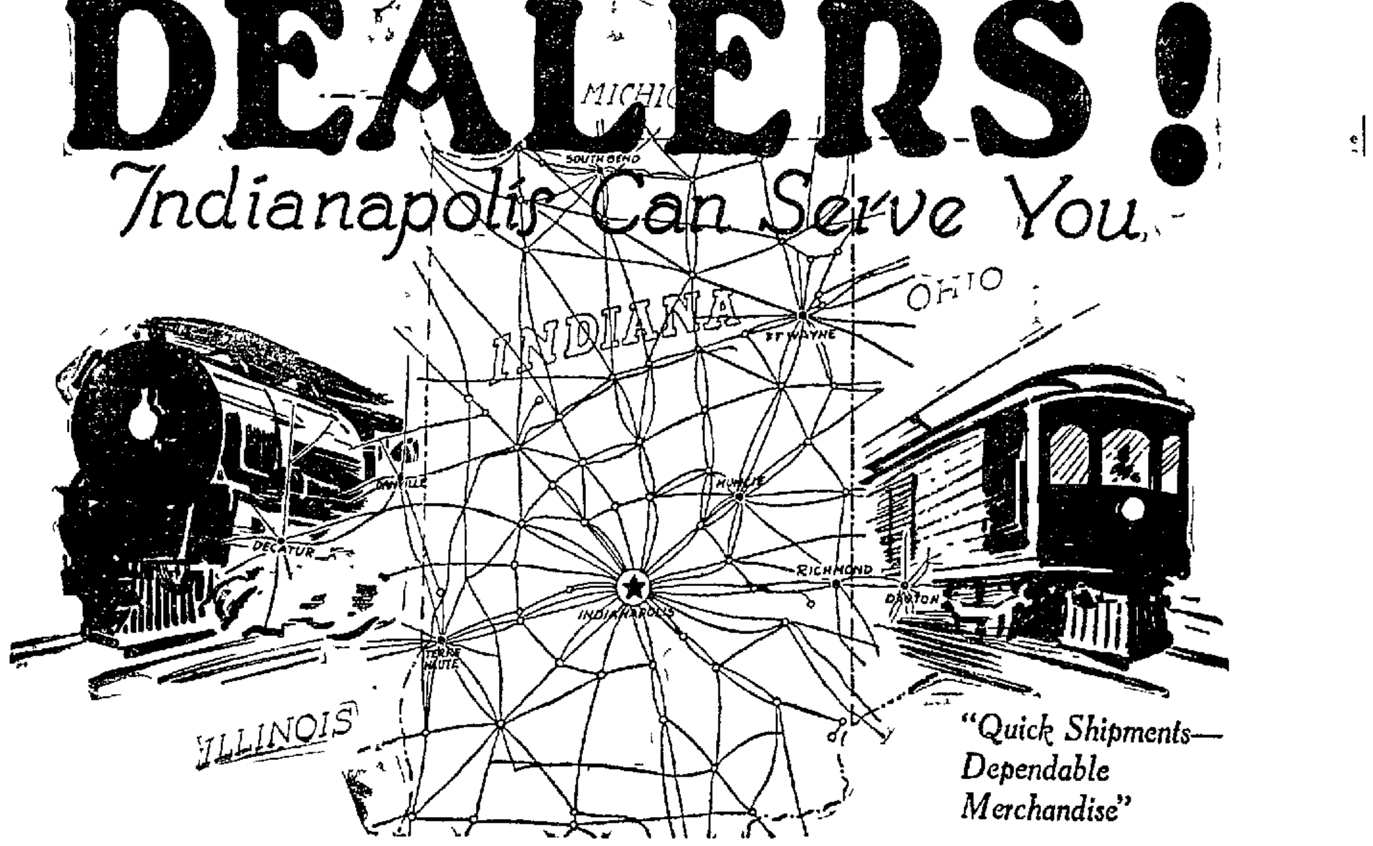

Taylorville Feb 6—Greenwood township Christian county, was the scene of a regular old-fashioned English fox drive Saturday, when four hundred persons including a number of mounted women, took the trail of the six Reynards which have been creating havoc there and succeeded in rounding up two of the animals

The women entered into the sport with great zest and sat their mounts like veterans

Allen Ettinger bought one of the pelts for $10 60, and Mr Truan, the Vandervllle merchant bought the other for $10 Luncheon was served after the drive

DEALERS!

Indianapolis Can Serve You.

"Quick Shipments—Dependable Merchandise"

Merchants of Decatur

AND adjacent cities will have an opportunity to appreciate in 1922, as perhaps never before, how they can increase their profits by allowing the wholesalers of Indianapolis to serve them.

Nineteen twenty-one was a hard year for merchants. Those who broke even were lucky. 1922 will be a better year, but every item of expense that can possibly be eliminated must go.

You can't lower many of your overhead expense items; you can't cut taxes; you can't cut insurance; you can't raise prices. There is just one way to increase profits in 1922, and that is to stop the small leaks and speed up the turnover so you can do more business on your invested capital.

Seventeen railroads and thirteen interurban lines radiate from Indianapolis. They make the city a natural distributing center.

Indianapolis is your logical buying point. Your nearest, quickest market. Freight and express charges are lower. If you buy farther away, every extra cent you pay in freight and express bills or in personal traveling expense is a leak. Why wait days for needed goods when almost hourly shipping service is at your command in dealing with Indianapolis wholesalers? Thus you can buy as you need, increase your turnover and profit, and at the same time give your customers better value for their money.

There are no more progressive wholesalers in the country than those of Indianapolis—none who have a keener and more intimate knowledge of the retailer's problems and are better qualified to help in their solution. Indianapolis is the greatest inland market of the country, a reservoir where the most complete and diversified stocks are at your instant service.

To Leave Space For Car Track in East Eldorado

Council Votes, 4 to 1, Montgomery Objecting, On New Improvement as Property Owners Want It.

East Eldorado street from North First to North Seventh street will be paved with brick and a strip seven feet and one inch wide will be left in the middle of the street unpaved for the East Eldorado street extension of the street car line on that street in pursuance of the city plan which calls for a street car line on East and West Eldorado streets.

This action was taken by the city council at the public hearing on that project which was held Monday morning when a petition presented by R. D. Wood signed by a practically unanimous frontage on the entire improvement was [illegible] and dis[illegible].

MAYOR FOR IT

[illegible] C. M. Borchers was [illegible] enough to say that at [illegible] opposed to paving either [illegible] [illegible] his strip but that [illegible] owners had expressed [illegible] to have [illegible] this [illegible] [illegible] fat [illegible]

Commissioner [illegible] said that [illegible] not have [illegible] to third [illegible] East William street [illegible] owners was to [illegible] he was opposed to leaving [illegible] paved strip in the middle of the street. Mr. Montgomery [illegible] council discussion had last [illegible] time and the vote was about [illegible] to be [illegible] good [illegible] unitedly [illegible] the rest of you [illegible] not see [illegible] all agree with me.

RUTHRAUFF AGREES

Commissioner Mat[illegible] expressed himself as being in favor of the plan and Harry Ruthrauff said that since the citizens committee appointed by the city council had [illegible] the acceptance of the city plan for street railway changes and since the property owners who will pay for it [illegible] also strongly in favor [illegible] felt that [illegible]

Commissioner Alex Van Praag was [illegible] against the proposition on the ground that he did [illegible] [illegible] to maintain [illegible] paved strip [illegible] cause of the [illegible] of the time [illegible] street [illegible] south.

FOLLOW CITY PLAN

Mayor B[illegible] [illegible] a fact that [illegible] not [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] property owners want to pave that strip they could [illegible] the cost would be more [illegible] [illegible] the meantime [illegible] matter [illegible] being followed [illegible] the mayor said that [illegible] in favor of giving the [illegible] and [illegible] at [illegible] street [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] cost of [illegible]

J. M. Clokey [illegible] said that [illegible] of [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] which he [illegible] [illegible]

COMMON IN INDIANAPOLIS

In Indianapolis [illegible] J. Goebel [illegible] secretary [illegible] assistant counsel of [illegible] I. & W. [illegible] and who [illegible] startled the council by saying that [illegible] plan [illegible] for the improvement [illegible] [illegible] is being followed and the paving of a street with leaving of an unpaved strip in the middle for future car tracks [illegible] is common practice. In fact he said that space for double car tracks is left on some streets with the result that the strip on either side is quite narrow. He thought the plan for the Decatur street with a strip sixteen feet [illegible] inches wide on both sides is entirely practical.

City Engineer W. H. Collins said that the estimated cost for the job is $10.84 a front foot covering everything—curb, sewer connections and the like. The strip to be left for the car line is to be seven feet and one [illegible] wide. With only one cross street in the six blocks to be paved the question of intersections was not important.

VOTE 4 TO 1

[illegible] vote for the leaving of a strip for a future car track on any street on which the street car company does not have a franchise said [illegible] and when the vote was [illegible] it was four to one for the [illegible] as asked for in the petition [illegible] property owners.

[illegible] object to the pav[illegible] during the session. One [illegible] the city council [illegible] for the purpose of ob[illegible] use of the cost. He own[illegible] street and told A. H. [illegible] the paving would be more [illegible] worth. Mr. Cope asked [illegible] would take for his lot [illegible] told his figure.

[illegible] Miller [illegible] your [illegible] said Mr. Cope and the only [illegible] to object went back [illegible] the meeting started.

C. O. Kramer one of the property owners objected to the high cost but was careful to say that he was not against the pavement itself.

J. M. Clokey who was rather insistent on delay signed the petition for the open strip for the future car track on the basis that if the pavement must be laid the saving of the strip would be the [illegible]

MARRIED.

COOPER—SALLEE

Miss Edith Alice Cooper, a teacher [illegible] of Jackson school was married Saturday afternoon [illegible] o'clock at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kindred of Warrensburg, Ill., to E. L. Sallee of Arthur, Ill. [illegible] H. Stahlhouse performing the ring ceremony. Thirty[illegible] [illegible] corsage of flowers were [illegible] present. The couple was unattended.

A three course wedding breakfast was served afterwards. The bride wore a [illegible] dress of blue chiffon taffeta with grey accessories [illegible] relatives and intimate friends sweetheart roses and violets.

The bride is the daughter of J. W. Cooper of Devore, Cal. She attended Normal High at Bloomington and the Illinois State University. She has been a teacher in public schools for some time teaching mostly in the vicinity of Carlock but for the past two years has been a teacher in Decatur.

Mr. Sallee is the son of O. P. Sallee of Arthur. He is a prominent young farmer. After a short wedding trip Mrs. Sallee will return to Decatur to resume her duties in the Jackson school.

W. F. Bowman, 84, Dies in Chicago

Was Father of Mrs. C. M. Borchers.

Andrew Bowman, 84 years old, father of Mrs. C. M. Borchers and W. F. Bowman of Decatur died early Monday morning in Chicago in the home of his daughter Miss Leona Bowman of complications.

Mr. Bowman has been a resident of Decatur, Oakland and Whitmore townships over fifty years. He went to Chicago during the holidays to visit his daughter and became quite ill while there although his health was poor when he left Decatur.

The body will arrive in Decatur Wednesday morning and the funeral will take place some time Wednesday in the Church of the Brethren, Rev. D. J. Blickenstaff officiating. Burial will be in Fairlawn cemetery. Mr. Bowman will be buried on his fifty eighth wedding anniversary.

Mr. Bowman's wife died last April. Besides the two children in Decatur he leaves the following other children: Mrs. Flora Jostes of Macon, Mrs. Emma Fisher of Chicago, Miss Leona Bowman of Chicago, and Mrs. Myrtle Miller of Charlotte, N. C. He also leaves twenty five grandchildren.

MRS. SUSAN SIEWERS

Mrs. Susan Rothrock Siewers, widow of J. B. Siewers died Saturday morning at her home 531 South Broadway. She was seventy-two years old. Her death was caused by a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Siewers was born at West Salem, Ill. in 1849. She and the late Joseph B. Siewers were married in 1870. They continued to reside in West Salem until 1887 when the family moved to Decatur and this has been her home ever since. For thirty five years Mrs. Siewers lived on South Broadway and was well known in that part of the city. She is survived by one son Warren B. Siewers of Chicago and one daughter Mrs. P. J. Thiel with whom she made her home. She also leaves three brothers, Henry Rothrock of West Salem, Ill., P. Rothrock of St. Cloud, Ill. and Frank Rothrock of Central Point, Ore. She also leaves a sister Mrs. Lucy Hedrick of West Salem.

MRS. FRIEDA VON BOCKELMAN

Mrs. Frieda Von Bockelman died at 11 o'clock Monday forenoon at St. Mary's hospital. She was about sixty five years old and had been at the hospital for three weeks.

Mrs. Von Bockelman was a daughter of General Frederick Tiedeman who was an officer in the Civil war and she was the widow of Rev. Paul W. Von Bockelman, a retired Lutheran minister. She was a highly educated woman and had many friends in Decatur where she had resided for the last twenty years. She was a member of the Evangelical Lutheran church in O'Fallon, Ill.

The body was removed to the Moran & Sons undertaking establishment and prepared for burial and will be taken to O'Fallon where she has some relatives.

JAMES ROBERT HILL

James Robert Hill, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Hill died at 2 o'clock Monday morning at the family residence 1111 East Eldorado street. He lived only eight hours.

MRS. DAVID J. MILBY

Mrs. David J. Milby of 762 East Center street died at 11:15 o'clock Monday forenoon at St. Mary's hospital. Death was caused by pneumonia fever. The body was removed to the Monson & Wilcox undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

She was born in New Berlin, Ill., March 1, 1886. She is survived by her husband, one daughter Arline, her parents, three brothers and three sisters. She was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene and was a devoted Christian.

The funeral will be held at the First Church of the Nazarene, 1467 North Clinton street, Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. L. G. Milby officiating.

SAMUEL L. ROTH DIES MONDAY

Funeral to Be Conducted Tuesday Afternoon

Samuel L. Roth, aged 64, former Decatur school teacher died at the state hospital in Jacksonville, at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning from a complication of diseases.

He was born in Newville, Penn., Jan. 2, 1858 where he lived until he came to Decatur 26 years ago. He is survived by his wife Mrs. Selena B. Roth of Decatur and five children: Mrs. W. R. Van Hook, Mrs. Orville Smith and H. L. Roth, all of Decatur, Miss Leta Roth of Chicago, and Edgar Roth of Riverside, Calif.

The funeral which will be private with no flowers will be conducted by Rev. Jake Wine of La Place at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Monson & Wilcox chapel. Burial will be in Fairlawn. The body will arrive at 12:50 o'clock Tuesday.

I. C. GAS CAR BACK TUESDAY

Making Slight Changes At Mattoon.

The gasoline-electric passenger car to be put in service by the Illinois Central between Mattoon and Decatur was not used Monday but the regular steam train made the trip. It is expected to have the electric car back on the schedule by Tuesday however. The car did not return to Decatur Saturday night to start out of here Monday morning as it was sent to the Mattoon shops for some changes that were planned.

After the train is put on here permanently the company will have to make some arrangements for it. A building to house this type of car in probably will be necessary and it may be that a gasoline storage tank will be installed. Mechanical department employes here have practically no word yet as to just what arrangements will be arranged here. This department however has received notice that during the cold weather, it will be necessary to furnish the car with 150 gallons of warm water every morning for the engine radiator. However this hot water can be drawn from the boiler of any switch engine.

New Assignments

The new assignment of Wabash 9th and 13th district firemen was issued Monday morning. Cox who had been on a 9th district local took Nos. 1 and 94 and Vanderwort who had held an east pool turn went on Nos. [illegible] Voyles caught Nos. 6 3 east in place of Herman Koeppe and Heuser and Irish caught the extra passenger board.

In freight Dutton took the first day jag in place of Miller while the latter took the second jag in Poe's place. Poe going to the 9th district switch local. Tilton layover in place of Cox. Curtis caught Nos. 74-75 in place of Irish. On the south pool Piggs went with H. Z. Nichols in place of Winters who took a turn with H. L. Adams. Drops goes on with Drischel and H. W. Koeppe goes on with Crabtree in place of Phillips while Phillips goes with Brimel in place of Housh and Housh goes with Neal. On the east end, Vandervort took a turn with Welsh in Whitney's place.

Railroad Notes

Orders for grain cars on the Decatur division of the Wabash, principally [illegible] north [illegible] [illegible] had mounted to 230 cars [illegible] This business is in addition [illegible] called for by the T. P. and W. and [illegible] which road was given 50 cars Saturday. Sixty two cars were loaded with grain Saturday on the division. The car distributor has a fairly good supply on hand to fill the orders.

A quick [illegible] made by Wabash east [illegible] south at Stonington late Saturday night caused two empty box cars near the rear of the train to crumple up and spill over both main tracks. The wrecker from Decatur cleared up the wreck in a short time and only slight delay was caused passenger trains. Engineer H. Z. Nichols and Conductor Batson had the extra.

Under the assignment of conductors to several of the north end passenger runs of the Wabash, Conductor Nick White gets Nos. 7-15, [illegible] Devlin gets Nos. 15 3 and [illegible] Folwell gets Nos. 4-5. [illegible] Kaiser caught the eighth district passenger job.

While working on the nipple on the angle valve on the branch pipe that connects the cooling hose with the trailer box on a Wabash engine Monday morning, Fred Kiel, pipefitter at the roundhouse, was badly scalded about the face and hand Monday morning and had to be taken to the Wabash hospital. A valve blew out. Fortunately his glasses protected his eyes.

Henry Stratman, Wabash pipefitter helper at the Wabash roundhouse has returned from Napoleon, O., where he attended the funeral of a relative.

Thomas Hawkins, Wabash passenger conductor on Nos. [illegible] east is laying off on account of sickness.

Herbert Head, clerk in the office of Wabash Fuel Supervisor Hurley here sustained another injury to his foot Saturday while playing basketball. He expected to go to the hospital for a picture of the injured foot to determine the extent of the injury.

A team of bowlers from the various offices at the Wabash depot met a team from Moweaqua on the Decatur alleys Saturday night. The railroad men refuse to divulge the score or any information about the game however.

Exceptions on the Illinois Central for January amounted to 2281 as compared with 2092 last December and 1978 in June 1921 when the special campaign against exceptions was made.

Walter Koshinski has been assigned the clerical position as assistant receiving clerk at the Wabash locomotive supply department.

The Springfield division has restored Nos. 74-[illegible] local freight between Decatur and Springfield as a daily run instead of running every other day.

Because of vacancies in north end passenger jobs on the Wabash all firemen jobs on the north end are open for bids.

The American Hominy company reports to the railroads that it has sixty five cars of corn on the way to the local mill and probably will start working overtime temporarily to handle this grind.

Cars handled by the Wabash in the Decatur yards in January were about 10,000 less than in the same month in 1921. The January total for 1922 was about 50,000 cars while in January 1921 it reached 60,[illegible]

The Wabash clamshell started work Monday morning digging [illegible] [illegible] Wabash coal pile east of the shops.

Assign Deputy Income Collectors

Dates Announced for Various Counties.

Income tax deputy collectors are to be sent out to the small towns in the adjoining counties of the Decatur district to help the people of those towns and vicinity to make out their income tax reports. This is according to the custom adopted two or three years ago and which saves many of these people from having to come to Decatur for information and assistance.

No deputies are assigned to the other towns in Macon county this year because in the last year or two, the men sent to these towns have had but little business to take care of. It was found that nearly everyone in or near those towns came to Decatur to make their reports and the deputies were really needed right at the Decatur office. The schedule announced for the various counties is as follows:

CHRISTIAN COUNTY

P. J. Paxton, Deputy collector
Stonington—Feb. 13 14

F. Lloyd will be here from Feb. 15 to March 1 inclusive to assist partnerships and corporations in filing their returns.

Helmick Resigns as U. S. Commissioner

Not Enough Business Here for Time Needed.

Attorney Howard Helmick, who has been U. S. commissioner for the southern division of Illinois appointed by Judge Fitzhenry of Springfield has resigned the position for business reasons. It is understood that the local man did not consider that there was enough work in the position to make it worth while.

Up to the present time no successor has been appointed to Mr. Helmick but since the establishment of the district offices of the U. S. prohibition agent here it is believed a commissioner will be necessary to handle the work that will be done by the prohibition officers.

DISCUSS FRANCHISE AT SCHOOL MEET

Fathers' Club of Roach School Has Community Gathering.

The Fathers club of the Roach school is having a community gathering Monday night at 7:30 in the school and the mothers are invited. John Knowlton will speak on the street franchise question and city planning.

DURFEE FATHERS ATTEND

The Fathers club of the H. B. Durfee school will meet Monday night and go in a body to the Roach school to hear the discussion of the street railway franchise question.

A committee of fathers will be at the school Monday afternoon to place tickets on sale for their vaudeville show, Thursday evening.

In the Mothers club meeting of the Jackson school Tuesday afternoon it will be decided whether the club will buy a set of Keystone stereographs.

GET PROGRAM FOR EDUCATION MEET

Decatur People Will Attend Gathering in Chicago.

Programs of the Chicago meeting of the National Educational Association were received by Decatur school people Monday morning. The meeting will be held Feb. 27 and 28 and March 1 and 2. The headquarters of the association will be the hotel LaSalle.

This is the big educational meeting of the year and a number of Decatur people invariably attend. Probably more will go this year because of its convenience to Decatur.

TWO WOMEN WERE AT CENTRAL J. H.

Miss Atkinson Second One to Pay Visit.

Is Miss Atkinson the alleged female raffles who was captured at the Central Junior High school last week, one of a gang who have been systematically robbing schools? It is certain that two different women visited the Central Junior high school on two successive days. Miss Atkinson was the second. Both women had red hair although different shades of red. Both women wore their hair dressed in precisely the same way. Both used the same formula when they met any one. Both had been drinking spirits of ammonia. All of this does not prove anything perhaps but it presents a series of remarkable coincidences.

THE FIRST WOMAN

The first woman to enter the high school came in at the southeast door. She found five teachers in the corridor and she was at once directed to the principal's office.

"I am looking for a Miss Bean who teaches in your building," she said to Principal Weedman.

"We have no such person teaching in our building," said the principal, "but if you will wait a moment I will look her up in the directory. Perhaps she is teaching in the system."

"Well I know that you are a very busy man," she said suavely. "I'll not ask you to do that. I'll go to the public school office and inquire there."

WATCHED CLOSELY

If her motive had been theft of course that trip was futile. She was suspected by Mr. Weedman and by the teachers who had seen her enter. They watched her like so many hawks until she was clear of the building. She did not go to the public school office. She went in that direction as far as Jackson street thence north on that to Eldorado thence west to Water thence north to Cerro Gordo thence west to North Main and south on that street to the postoffice.

It was observed while she was in the building that she had red hair, a light red, that she wore her hair in flat waves over her ears, that her hat was pulled down low over her eyes and that there was the odor of ammonia on her breath.

MISS ATKINSON'S PART

The story of Miss Atkinson's capture has been told with substantial exactness. She entered the building at the northeast doorway. Weedman was watching her from the cross corridor. There are two distinct stairways in the north hallway each broken into two flights for each story and the central landing connecting the first flights partly divided by the main smoke stack. The woman went directly up the nearest flight then instead of turning to her right and continuing her ascent she walked the entire length of the landing to the second flight of the other stairway. Reaching the second floor she walked the entire length of the hall to the west end and ascended the second story by the same devious way as she did the first.

LOOKED IN CLOSETS

There are two clothes closets on the north side of the third floor hallway. She peered into both of these stooping slightly to do so. It was easy to see that they were both occupied with children's wraps. Then she crossed over to the south side of the hall opened the door of the music room merely a crack stooped and peered through that. The room was occupied.

It was then that Weedman appeared. "I was looking for a Miss Neills who is teaching in your building," she said to him in a cultivated voice.

Weedman enticed her to the office. The formula that was gone through there was the same as that of the day before. "Mr. Weedman being busy she said she would go to the public school office and make her inquiries. Mr. Weedman remarked that he was going to that office himself and would walk along with her. She decided that she would not go to the public office at all but would take her bundle to the station.

NOT SAME

Miss Atkinson is not the woman that visited the high school building and carried away property to the value of $103 from one teacher Mr. Weedman believes. She could not be identified by the teachers whom had seen her in the high school because she was not the same woman. Hence it is argued that there were at least two of them working together. It is believed that they divided the loot, hence part of that taken from the high school was found in the possession of the woman who clearly did not rob the high school.

WEEDMAN MAKES STATEMENT

Otto Weedman, principal at Central Junior High gave the following signed statement to The Review Monday afternoon:

On the day of the capture of Florence Atkinson at the Central Junior High School I was called by a reporter of the Review and asked to give the details of the happenings at the Police Office following the taking of this woman. While I did not go into detail relative to the things that happened yet I did state that it was my judgment that Chief Allen had expected to turn the woman loose.

Chief Allen answered the following day through the columns of the Review in which he stated that there had been no intention on the part of the Police Department to let the woman go at liberty leaving, I presume in the minds of readers the idea that my statement was without foundation. Therefore this statement.

A short time after the lady in question was taken to the Police Station I went of my own accord to watch the proceedings at the hearing. Together with teachers of the Central Junior High School and High School I entered the Chief's office. When I entered his office in substance he said (addressing the teachers) that we did not have the right woman and that we had no right to hold her. He said that she was well acquainted with certain prominent people in Decatur that she had just submitted to an operation in a Springfield hospital and that she was on her way to Chicago stopping here to see a friend which she had a right to do. At this time he repeated the fact that we had no right to hold her. He (Chief Allen) called to one of the police officers at this time and said, "Take the automobile and take this woman to the station so she can get that train to Chicago." At this time [illegible] Chief looked at his watch and demanded that they must hurry or she would miss her train. The lady rose from her chair to go. At this time I asked the Chief if I might tell my story before she was turned loose. He said, "Yes, but hurry or this woman will miss her train." When I had finished I was told that I might return to the school house and was given no opportunity to tell about Miss Atkinson's co-worker. I had five reasons to give to show that Miss Atkinson had a co-worker.

The police may not have expected to turn Miss Atkinson loose. If they did not I wish publicly to beg the pardon of the Chief and his workers, yet I wished people to know why I made the statement that I did.

Miss Loretta Jackson of the Central Junior High School and Miss Eliza Thomas of High School together with other teachers of High School will be glad, I think, to verify the statements which I have made.

OTTO WEEDMAN.

CITY NEEDS GOOD SCHOOL SYSTEM

Dr. Jenney Says We're Getting What We Pay For

The importance of a good school system at this time because of the fact that parents are placing the responsibility of bringing their children up upon the school teachers was emphasized by Rev. C. J. Jenney in his discussion of "The School Question" Sunday night at the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Jenney said that he believed the Decatur school administration was giving the city the best school system possible. "Decatur people are getting as good schools as they are paying for," he remarked.

ROCK ISLAND WANTS HEDDING COLLEGE

Offers $800,000 for Removal of School.

Hedding college at Abingdon, one of the oldest Methodist colleges in the country, may be removed to a new location. An offer has been made by the Rock Island Chamber of Commerce of a fund of $800,000 for the college if it is moved to Rock Island.

If the proposition is accepted it is the plan to have the money raised, the site chosen and buildings erected by the opening of the college year in September 192[illegible]. The matter will be placed before the Central Illinois conference of the Methodist church when it meets in Rock Island in September if the trustees decide to consider the proposal.

SINCE 1850

Hedding college has been located at Abingdon since its inception in 185[illegible]. Opponents of the change in location say that the removal would mean a loss of over $245,000 to the institution. Those favoring the plan believe that Rock Island would be a better location for a number of reasons. Abingdon is a small town, with inadequate improvements, it is not a state strategic railway center, and the college is in too close proximity to several other colleges. With Rock Island as a location it is believed a much larger student body would be drawn from the community.
